

Eisenhower Sees Sound Growth for Nation's Economy

Keep Budget in Balance, Curb Inflation, He Urges

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower predicted today that the faltering economy would advance soon into "a period of sound growth."

The President's annual economic report—his last major message to Congress—called for 14 pieces of legislation. None could be called an anti-recession measure.

Proposals Conflict

Instead, Eisenhower urged on Congress these policies for sustained prosperity: Keep his new $81 billion budget in balance. Keep inflation under control.

In tone and content, the message was in sharp conflict with the most nearly comparable Democratic document, the Jan. 5 report of President-elect John F. Kennedy's economic task force.

The Democratic group called for emergency federal action extending unemployment compensation for workers who have exhausted their jobless pay, along with other programs boosting federal outlays by $3 billion to $5 billion in the fiscal year starting July 1.

Eisenhower conceded Congress should consider providing some supplement to jobless pay "in periods of especially high rates of unemployment." But his economic advisers told newsmen that the present rate—6.8 per cent—wasn't high enough to justify federal help.

The President's legislative want-list was topped by a demand that

Motor Bank Will Rise on Hotel Site

First National, Building Group Announce New Drive-in Service

One of Appleton's landmarks, the 67-year-old Hotel Appleton, soon will give way to the wreckers' hammer to make room for the First National Bank's new motor bank.

There has been speculation for months that the hotel would be razed, but no official statement on use of the Appleton and Washington Streets southwest corner site was made until today.

Announcement of the proposed motor bank was made by Harold Adams, president of First National Bank, and Alex J. Manier, president of the Appleton Building Corp., which owns the hotel.

There has been speculation, too, that the bank would buy the H. C. Prange Co. annex on Appleton Street, and that the building corporation was interested in acquiring the remaining property between the annex and the hotel.

Will Take Title

Adams confirmed today that the bank will take title to the annex soon. Manier said the building corporation's present plans do not call for acquiring the remaining property.

The building corporation bought the hotel last October from Sylvester "Connie" Esler, who had owned it since 1951.

Bids are being taken to have the hotel demolished. It is hoped work can begin the first week in February, and the job is expected to take 90 days. Hotel furnishings will be auctioned Thursday.

"As soon as the hotel is down, and ground work completed, construction of the motor bank will

Okay Increase in Membership of Rules Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Democrats at a harmonious caucus today approved an increase in Rules Committee membership to break a coalition's grip on that committee.

They shouted approval of a resolution by Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas to increase the membership to 15 from 12, with 10 Democrats and 5 Republicans.

There was no roll-call vote.

Rules Chairman Howard W. Smith of Virginia told the caucus he would call a committee meeting to act on the increase as soon as the committee is formally created, probably next week.

It was one of the briefest caucuses in party history, lasting only about 15 minutes.

The action, subject to House approval probably next week, represented an initial victory for Rayburn in his drive to crack the Rules Committee control held in the past by a coalition of four Republicans and two Southern Democrats.

KATHMANDU, Nepal (AP)—A government spokesman today denied reports that a Nepali army battalion was rushing to crush a communist-led insurrection in Eastern Nepal.

The spokesman said the reports were "fantastic nonsense . . . no uprising, communist or otherwise, has taken place anywhere in Nepal, nor is any anticipated."

Governor Asks Legislature To Declare Partisan Truce

Maps Urban Program for Wisconsin

MADISON — The recognition and solution of growing urban problems in Wisconsin is the "new frontier" for the state government, Gov. Nelson told the legislature today.

The governor asked the legislature to enact the broadest program of urban development bills ever offered to law-makers by a state executive.

They ranged from easing of the city annexation statutes, to modernization of county government by the provision of county executives in urban counties and the authorization of the choice of alternatives to the county board form of administration in those counties that desire new administrative methods or need them.

New Problems

"Urban problems have long been neglected, and more and more people have converged upon our centers of population, creating new problems which made old laws inadequate," the legislature was told in the governor's major program message.

"Municipal governments which attempt to cope with this phenomenal growth of population find

Ike for Change In Inauguration, Election Dates

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today election and inauguration dates ought to be changed so a new president would have 80 days to get organized before he starts doing business with Congress.

Specifically, he said, there should be that much time to prepare messages on the state of the Union and the budget before Congress convenes.

He said he favors a constitutional amendment which would change the time of the national elections and of inauguration of a new president to a point where the new executive would take office 80 days before he meets with his first Congress.

Eisenhower gave no specific dates. But since Congress ordinarily convenes Jan. 3, under his schedule the new president would have to take office about Nov. 10, instead of the present Jan. 20, date fixed in the Constitution.

This would make it necessary to move the presidential election ahead of the date now fixed—the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November.

Shoots Wife, 4 Children, Then Himself

GRAND BLANC, Mich. (AP)—An engineer described as a good family man stalked through his new home with a rifle yesterday, shooting his sleeping wife and four children to death, then killing himself.

The bodies of Mrs. Janet Clark, 37, Kathleen, 11, Karen, 6, Karl, 12, and Kurt, 8, were found in their beds, wearing pajamas.

Thomas B. Clark, an $8,000-a-year processing engineer with Fisher Body of General Motors, lay on the floor of Kurt's downstairs bedroom. A 30-06 Springfield Army rifle was found beside the body.

Willis Dehart, a neighbor and foreman at Fisher Body, said Clark apparently felt he was a failure because he had been transferred back to the Grand Blanc plant after only a short time at GM's St. Louis plant.

The family moved into the new $20,000 home just a week ago.

Undersheriff Richard Shannon said Clark, wearing a bathrobe and slippers, apparently loaded his rifle early yesterday, shot his wife as she slept, then walked to the girls' room and killed both of them.

Ike Hails Peace as Top Achievement

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he considered the greatest achievement of his eight years in office was the preservation of peace in an era when weakness would almost certainly have brought disastrous war.

The President gave this appraisal in his last news conference, attended by 305 reporters who crowded into the ornate Indian Treaty room of the old state department building.

The 70-year-old soldier-President dealt quickly, smilingly and emphatically with questions concerning foreign and domestic problems. He spoke most feelingly

MADISON—In his first second term speech to the Republican state legislature, Democratic Gov. Gaylord A. Nelson today laid down a far-ranging series of legislative proposals and invited his political rivals in the legislative branch to declare a partisan truce for the duration of the 1961 legislative session.

The governor offered a program containing scores of specific requests for legislation, relatively few of them new, and then asked the legislators to try to avoid "the bitter partisan stalemate" that he said has been forecast by some pessimists because the voters of the state last fall had elected a politically divided state government.

If there is such a stalemate, he warned, the public won't pay the penalty alone.

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—One of the Laotian air force's four newly delivered U.S. planes was shot down Tuesday north of the Van Vieng front, a reliable government source said today.

Laotian pilots have been flying the T6 trainer fighters after arming them with 5-inch rockets and 30-caliber machine guns. The fate of the pilot was not known.

According to scanty information available, the plane was downed by ground fire while it was strafing retreating pro-communist forces north of Vang Vieng. The rebel stronghold 70 miles north of Vientiane was captured by government forces Monday.

4 Russian Ships Bring Fresh Speculation on Spectacular Space Shot

WASHINGTON (AP)—Four Russian missile tracking ships standing by in the Pacific brought new speculation today that the Soviet Union was preparing for a spectacular space shoot.

Navy patrol aircraft spotted the fourth ship, the Suchan, yesterday in the North Pacific, 1,000 miles due south of the Aleutian Island of Attu. It was moving slowly on a southeast course.

Lumumba Held In Katanga Jail

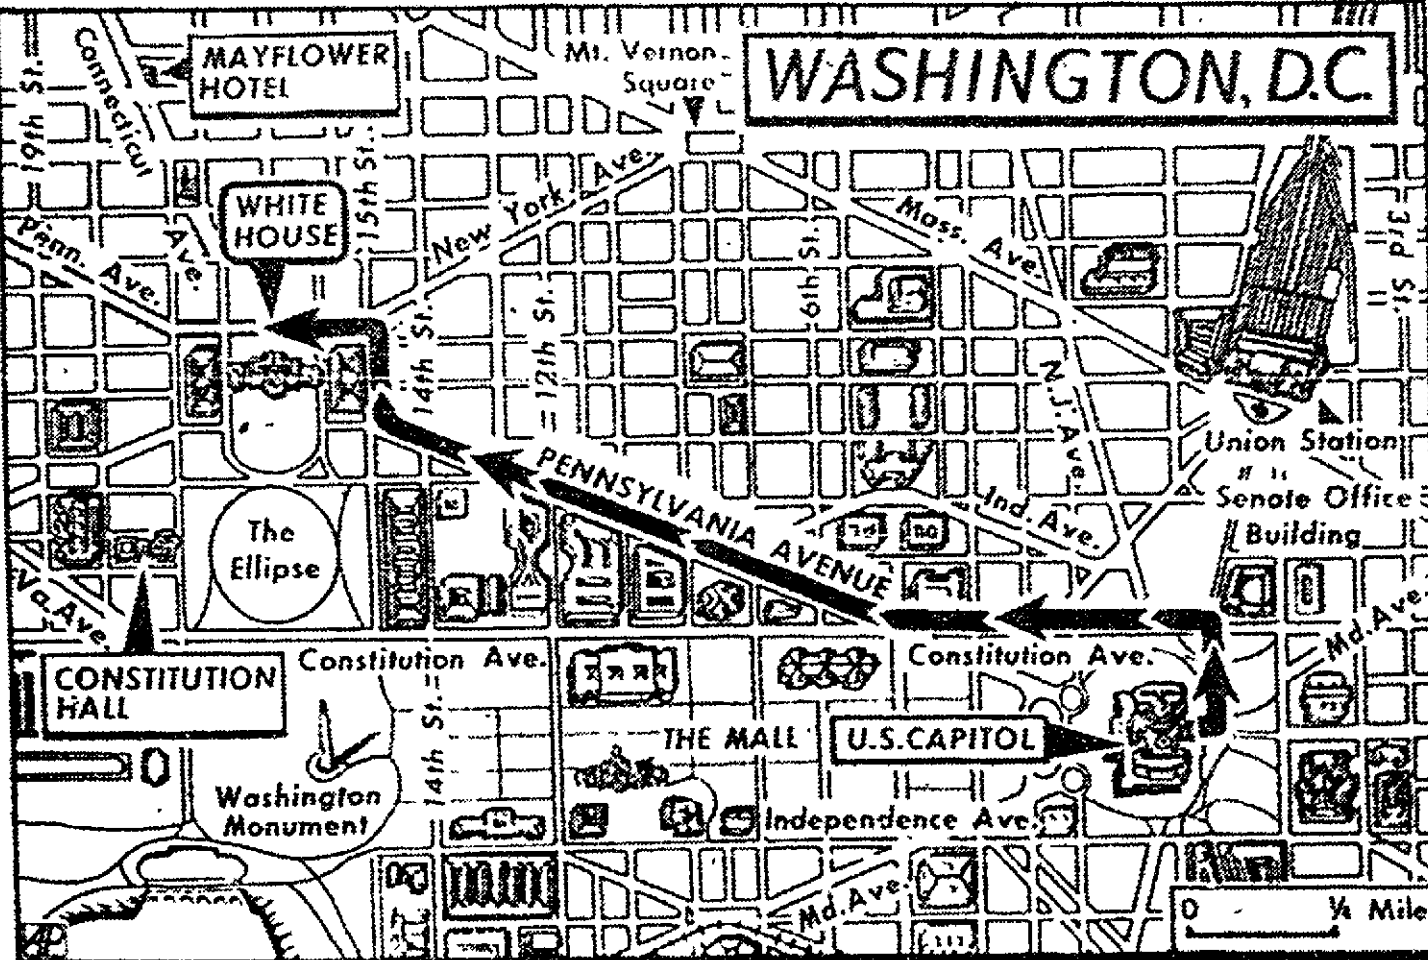

ELISABETHVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The Katanga government announced today that deposed Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba and two close associates had been transferred to a jail in Katanga Province because their army confinement near Leopoldville was not considered secure.

Swedish U.N. troops at the Elisabethville airport when the fiery ex-premier arrived Tuesday said European-offered units of the Katanga police beat the three prisoners unmercifully. Lumumba was reportedly badly bruised.

The Katanga government—headed by an arch enemy of Lumumba, Provincial President Moise Tshombe—said the captives were taken to a place outside Elisabethville.

A Swedish source said they were in jail at Jadotville, about 60 miles from Elisabethville.

Lumumba has been held at the military camp at Thysville, 80 miles southwest of Leopoldville, the Congo capital, but was freed briefly there Friday when some of the garrison rioted over pay.

Nikita Voices New Threat to Sign East German Pact

Soviet Premier Says Position of Big Three in West Berlin Now Is 'Especially Vulnerable'

MOSCOW (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev has hurled a new threat to sign a separate peace treaty with the East German Communist regime in a move to end Western occupation of West Berlin.

The Soviet premier says the Big Three powers' position in West Berlin is "especially vulnerable."

Khrushchev's fresh threat was made in a speech delivered to party leaders in Moscow Jan. 6 and published in the current issue of the magazine Kommunist.

His speech constituted an interpretation of the declaration adopted at the Communist party summit conference in Moscow last fall.

Ranging across the field of foreign policy, he divided wars into three classes and said the world Communist movement fully supports those of the third class—"sacred" wars of national liberation. As examples, he cited the Algerian rebellion and Fidel Castro's revolution.

Avoid Total War

But it is to communism's advantage, he said, to avoid total first class wars of the total thermonuclear variety and second class "brush fire" wars such as the Indochina fighting of 1953-54 and the British-French action in the Suez in 1956. He made no mention of the current fighting in Laos.

The Soviet leader confidently predicted that a victory for world communism "is not far off." He said this could be achieved without war. But he warned that war will come if the capitalist nations try to resist communism's victory—a victory he said is "inevitable by the laws of historical development."

A production victory over the United States, he said, will be a factor in bringing about the triumph of world communism.

Khrushchev held firmly to previous Soviet policy toward West Berlin and once again denounced what he called "renascent West German militarism."

Vulnerable Position

"The position of the U. S. A., Britain and France has proved to be especially vulnerable in West Berlin," he said. "These powers still try to cling to the old positions, but they cannot fail to realize that the occupation regime in that city will end sooner or later."

"It is necessary to continue, step by step, to bring aggressive-minded imperialists to their senses, to compel them to reckon with the real situation. And if they balk, we shall take resolute measures. We shall sign a peace treaty with the (East) German Democratic Republic, for we are fully determined to conclude a German peace treaty, at long last, in order to pull out the thorn that the occupation regime in West Berlin is."

Nixon Packs For Departure From Capitol

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon packed today for his departure from Washington with the assurances of GOP colleagues that future national service awaits him.

Nixon was said by aides to be undecided yet on which of several offers he will accept from law firms in California.

The Nixon home in a fashionable Washington residential district is up for sale. Whether his two daughters will remain in school here until June hasn't been decided.

Several of his Republican senatorial colleagues told Nixon Tuesday that though he may be leaving office Friday because of his narrow defeat in the presidential race, they expect him to be back in harness again.

Nixon is regarded as one of the likely contenders for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination. He has indicated he does not plan to run in 1962 for any California office.

Nixon touched off a 75-minute series of tributes—including some from Democrats—when he said goodbye to the Senate Tuesday.

The vice president left behind a gift of two three-minute glass sand timers. He said subsequent presiding officers could juggle them to enforce the three-minute rule on speakers in what the Senate knows as its "morning hour."

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois praised Nixon as "one of the most distinguished vice presidents of this country."

Nixon sat quietly, twisting a ball of paper in his hand as others joined in tributes.

PERIODIC SUFFERING BY MANY WOMEN UNWARRANTED

Many women suffer needlessly every month. Aside from the pain that must be endured, there is an upset of the entire nervous system. Irritability, melancholia, depression, and headaches are some of the common symptoms.

The nerves which control the function and activity of the female organs also lead to the muscles of the back, legs, and bowels, and other organs in the vicinity. These nerve trunks emit from the spine in approximately the same place. Slight spinal or hip displacement causes irritation of these nerves with the attending combination of symptoms and troubles. That is why backache, legache, or constipation are also associated with each period.

The Chiropractor locates and removes nerve irritation through spinal adjustments and by so doing removes the cause of the trouble and nature does the rest.

Murder Charge Faces Husband, Father of 11

Held Responsible for Death of Wife, Children in Blazing Shanty Home

BEDFORD, Que., (AP)—Crown prosecutor Claude Noiseux said he will charge Abel Vosburgh, 63, with murder today in the death of his wife and 11 children, whose bodies were found in their burned shanty home Dec. 29.

A coroner's jury Tuesday night found Vosburgh, sole survivor of the fire, criminally responsible. As a crowd of 300 persons milled around outside the hearing room, Vosburgh denied he caused the fire and kept his family from escaping.

Vosburgh, an unemployed laborer, testified the flames awoke him and that he called to his wife, whom police said was dead before the fire started. Vosburgh said he then ran to a water pump outside their home in the village of Noyon, 35 miles south of Montreal.

Vosburgh testified he heard his wife shout "Richard," the name of a dead child, as he ran. "Did you hold the door closed?" prosecutor Noiseux asked.

"No sir, I did not," Vosburgh replied.

Commenting that the fire spread rapidly, Noiseux asked

"Was it that bad because you spread oil on the floor?"

"No sir," Vosburgh replied again. He told police earlier a stove exploded, sending a sheet of flame through the wooden house.

Vosburgh denied he ever beat his 43-year-old wife. One of the four Vosburgh children away from home when the fire broke out, Irving, 18, testified his mother and father fought "about once a month" and that his father broke his mother's ribs during a fight four years ago. He also testified his father threatened to kill his mother, "but I don't know if he meant it."

4 States Study Hog Shipping

Specialists Confer On Uniform Laws for Disease Prevention

CHICAGO (AP) — Representatives of Missouri, Iowa, Wisconsin and Illinois are conferring in Chicago on the possibility of seeking uniform legislation throughout the Midwest on the interstate shipment of hogs.

At the opening of the two-day conference Tuesday, Iowa State Rep. Paul M. Walter said existing conflicting regulations impose a financial hardship on some hog feeders. He cited a case in which an Iowa feeder lost 150 pigs from cholera because of conflicting regulations in Iowa and Missouri.

Walter said Missouri requires that hogs shipped from that state be inoculated with serum, while Iowa requires hogs entering the state to be vaccinated with modified serum. He said the use of both medications prevented the hogs from gaining immunization and several animals receiving both kinds of shots developed cholera and died.

Uniform Laws

David Foreman of the Illinois Agriculture Department said agreement on uniform legislation on agricultural commodities would be sought in Iowa, Wisconsin, Missouri, Illinois, Minnesota, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Kentucky and possibly South Dakota and Nebraska.

Russell Ives, a spokesman for the American Meat Institute, told the meeting that the AMI is opposed to federal meat inspection regulations requiring that the weight of smoked hams shall not exceed the weight of fresh, uncured meat.

Watered Hams

Ives said the AMI board of directors has advised the U.S. Department of Agriculture that surveys show consumers prefer a ham that is more moist or juicy than those permitted under present regulations on government inspected meat.

Ives did not comment directly on a charge that some meat packers and hog raisers are turning out watered hams.

Bob Casper of Winterset, Iowa, vice president of the National Farmers Organization, made the charge in a speech Saturday night. He said he favored legislation to prevent processing hams with a high water content.

The meeting was called by the Illinois Commission to Study Interstate Shipment and Sale of Agricultural Commodities.

X MORE DAYS And He'll Be Here!

Watch For The BIG DAY!

275 Horses, 22 Mules, 1 Burro In Huge Parade

Inaugural March Said to be Best Horsed in History

WASHINGTON (AP) — Everything seems about ready for John F. Kennedy's big presidential inauguration Friday, including 275 horses, 22 mules and 1 burro.

This livestock statistic was hurled out today by a breathless inaugural committee.

Many of its earlier tidbits dealt with the latest formidable weapons the armed forces will display, and with the electronic gadgetry aimed at keeping the parade on time.

But in news release No. 185, issued today, the committee did a complete about face.

"In no other parade," the committee proudly reported, "have there been so many horses."

Standard Locomotion

This seems surprising since horses were standard presidential locomotion in the old days and Warren G. Harding was the first to forsake them and ride to his inauguration in an automobile.

But admittedly 275 add up to a lot of horseflesh, and of course the Army is prepared. Two horse ambulances, each with a veterinarian and an assistant, will be parked along the parade route to assist any beast needing first aid.

The mules wear miniature fezzes between their ears. Their sponsors are the Colorado Springs, Colo., Al Kaly Temple of Shriners. The burro, symbol of the Democratic party, will pull a miniature float preceding the mule train.

The U.S. Park Police horse-mounted troop has been drilling for the parade with workouts in beautiful Rock Creek Park here. As they drill, a loud recording of crowd noises is played so that the horses will feel right at home in the racket as they prance down Pennsylvania Avenue.

Liveliest Yet

Officials of the inaugural committee, when you can coax them to stand still long enough to answer a question, say this is going to be the liveliest inauguration yet—as well as the best horsed.

What started out as one inaugural ball Friday night has now branched out into five. Two more were added Tuesday, which will give us dancers room for whirling, or watching, away in four hotel ballrooms and the National Guard Armory.

No one seems to have paused long enough to count the tickets sold, but the figure usually used is 25,000, a fair-sized crowd when you remember that the cheapest ticket costs $25 and that a box seating eight brings in $320.

Native of Ireland Wants to be Sure He'll Still be Irish

His parents said he expressed doubt about the naturalization process until convinced he would remain a true Son of Erin.

Ike Voices Hope for Freedom In Sentimental Farewell Talk

Much Yet to be Done, He Says; Wishes New Administration Well

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, in a sentimental farewell address, has asked for stability at home and voiced hope for the achievement of freedom for all who yearn for it in a troubled world.

To president-elect John F. Kennedy, he extended the wish for prosperous journeying through his years as chief executive.

Eisenhower spoke to the American people Tuesday night from his office which already is emptied of personal mementoes and relics of eight years in the White House. Friday he begins a new career as private citizen.

Much to Be Done

In the message carried over major radio and television networks, the President expressed regret that "so much remains to be done."

The old soldier said it is with a "definite sense of disappointment" that he lays down his responsibilities in the search for a workable disarmament plan. He described this as a continuing imperative.

Eisenhower said he wished he could say that lasting peace is in sight but it is not, adding "crises there will continue to be."

Looking into the years ahead, the President said America is pre-eminent in the world today, "the strongest, the most influential and most productive nation in the world."

But he warned: "As we peer into society's future, we—you and I, and our government—must avoid the impulse to live only for today, plundering, for our own ease and convenience, the precious resources of tomorrow."

He thanked his fellow Americans for the opportunities they had given him for public service in war and peace.

"I trust that in that service you will find some things worthy; as for the rest of it, I know you will find ways to improve performance in the future," he said.

It was toward the end of his farewell that Eisenhower seemed to come close to revealing his feelings. He removed his glasses, blinked several times and added that on Friday noon he would become a private citizen.

"I'm proud to do so," he said. "I look forward to it. Thank you and good night."

Judge Receives Bill Back for Now Famous Air Conditioning Unit

KENOSHA (AP)—The bill for the rental of Judge Harold Bode's, now famous air conditioner was returned to him Tuesday night by the Kenosha County Board.

The judge's air conditioner brought things to a boil during a heat wave last summer, resulting in the jailing of Richard Lindgren, the county clerk.

The board's latest action followed a statement by Dist. Atty. Joseph Molinaro that in his opinion the county isn't liable for a rental bill of $80 submitted by a local appliance store.

The store wants $5 a week for the machine from Sept. 1, 1960 to Dec. 9, 1960, plus $10 for installation.

Judge Bode had Lindgren jailed for contempt when he refused to pay for the rental of the machine. He was freed by a State Supreme Court ruling that also told the judge to forget about his contempt of court order.

The general opinion of board members Tuesday was: "This machine was not authorized by the board. The person who rented the air conditioner will have to pay for it."

Declare Partisan Truce, Nelson Asks Legislature

Increased state taxation to meet soaring state expenditures. In detailing his non-fiscal program today, the governor ranged over the political map.

Governor's Proposals

Most important of his proposals were:

1. The reorganization of the state highway commission, which traditionally has been operated by three members, into a one-man agency with an advisory commission.

2. A sweeping series of bills to modernize state and local government, including freer annexation, rights for cities, optional forms of government for counties, the authorization of county executives on an optional basis, four year terms for state officials.

3. Revision of the state constitution to make for easier amendments, compulsory decennial reapportionment of the legislature, and the relaxation of the debt clause to permit some state bonding under new limits to be stated by law.

4. Enabling legislation for a series of farm marketing orders under which producers would be permitted to vote for grade, volume and other restrictions. The same bill was defeated by the Republicans in the 1959 legislature, after one of the longest political wrangles of modern times.

Civil Rights Bill

5. A series of bills to extend the civil rights laws by giving the Governor's Commission on Human Rights broader powers to investigate and act against discrimination in all places of public accommodation, and in transactions involving real estate for rental or for sale.

At intervals in his speech the governor indicated that he intends to present later messages with recommendations on particular subjects, including education and natural resources conservation.

He aroused special interest with a broad hint that he may offer proposals for changes in the system of administration of the huge Wisconsin public school system.

"There are many persuasive arguments that the time has come for a thorough reappraisal of primary and secondary education, vocational and higher education," he told the legislators.

School Problems

He said there is duplication, and evidence that high schools are lagging in quality "such as the growing need for remedial courses at college levels." He added there are complaints about school construction costs, as he said he will probably recommend the creation of a Commission on Education Development to make a complete revaluation of the Wisconsin schools.

Nelson surprised the capitol by reviving the idea of a one man highway department leadership which has been offered in the past, but spurned by the legislature. Two of the three present highway commissioners are Nelson's choices including Chairman Harvey Grasse of Ellison Bay.

He said the present system is "costly, wasteful of talent, confusing to department personnel and basically inefficient. Every expert in the field of public and private administration recommends single directorships," the lawmakers were told.

Highway Advisory Board

He said he would prepare a bill providing for a highway department advisory board, which would make highway administration consistent with the form employed in other major administrative agencies including welfare and agriculture departments.

Much of the governor's program was drawn from earlier proposals and from the recommendations of interim legislative committees — and he extended credit to such study groups.

He asked for legislation for state control of the use and sale of pesticides, and for strengthening the state price discrimination laws, for the outlawing of wiretapping anywhere in Wisconsin for any purpose, and for a doubling of the state student loan fund.

He endorsed a Legislative Council plan for a unified system of county health administration to replace town and municipal health offices, asked for more state research funds for mental disease studies, said he will support a series of recommendations for state "housekeeping" improvements to be turned out by an advisory committee of business executives, suggested merger of the fair employment practices division of the industrial commission with the Commission on Human Rights, and told the lawmakers that the state election expense reporting law ought to be made more meaningful by requiring the listing of donors by their full names and addresses in the required reports.

Gov. Nelson also endorsed another ancient proposition often defeated when he called for the nonpartisan election of county officers.

Only policy-determining officials, ought to be elected on a party ballot, said the titular leader of the Democratic party which has been worried publicly about the fact that a majority of all the court and house functionaries of Wisconsin hold office as Republicans and sin.

The governor showed a keen awareness of the unique position he holds in Wisconsin political history — controlled as he is politically by a Republican legislature. His speech was generally conciliatory. He said he wanted to give the legislature a "warm personal welcome."

His responsibility, like that of the legislature, is to the Wisconsin public, he said.

"We must not allow sectional differences, partisanship nor political expediency to shake our common resolve to do our best for those who have entrusted us with public office."

If we cast aside our petty political differences and adopt a sweeping program for the public good, we can establish an historic lesson in how democracy can triumph even under adverse circumstances. The people will respond to this lesson," he said.

The dedication of the elected public servant will win a new rank of respect in the public eye."

Nelson said he had one note to "cheer" lawmakers as they faced the "formidable" state problems of the next two years.

"We enter this critical period the creation of a new state war resources board and an endowment fund for water conservation districts, and for a bill to regulate the use of atomic energy within Wisconsin.

He repeated an earlier declaration favoring an increase in the state traffic patrol, and for tighter driver licensing requirements. He did not suggest a specific number of additional patrolmen. The present force numbers 250.

Nelson repeated his earlier call for regulation of billboards on state trunk highways, which was denied by the Republican state senate two years ago, and reported that his new department of economic resource development will bring in proposals for highway interchange control to prevent the creation of "slums" at the new road interchanges, for

State School Boards Meet

Two Proposals for Educational System Changes Expected

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Wisconsin Association of School Boards opened its convention today with delegates expected to approve two proposals calling for changes in the state's educational system.

George Tipler of Winneconne, executive secretary of the association, said one measure would remove policy making authority from the state superintendent of public instruction and place the power with an elected state board of education.

The other plan would initiate much stricter teacher requirements and prescribe limitations for the teaching profession regarding graduates of two-year county normal schools.

Tipler said he saw no major opposition to either proposal in the making.

(The Appleton Board of Education is using the convention as an opportunity to introduce Royce E. Kurtz, new superintendent, to people from other parts of the state. Mrs. Myrl Davis and Dr. A. Neil McLeod of the Appleton board and James Murphy, Franklin School principal, will take part in the program.)

Oshkosh and the Valley

Elsewhere on this page is reprinted a front page editorial from the Oshkosh Northwestern which reiterates that newspaper's views on the Fox Valley airport controversy. As far as we know, these views reflect the thinking of the civic and business leaders of Oshkosh.

We do not propose to answer this editorial in kind, principally because in doing so we would simply be offering our readers a rehash of the arguments, pro and con, regarding the joint airport proposal which already have received thorough coverage and discussion in this newspaper and others.

The only point now at issue regarding the joint airport proposal — in fact, the only real issue since the inception of the controversy — is whether the Winnebago County Board and/or the State Aeronautics Commission will provide time in which the citizens of the two counties, and the various governmental agencies involved, can make a really thorough study of the problem. This is all the people of Outagamie County and Neenah-Menasha have ever asked — that the joint airport proposal be studied in an atmosphere of calm deliberation, rather than in one of emotional stress and panicky maneuvering. If the joint airport proposal does not have merit, then why is the Oshkosh leadership so anxious to commit Winnebago County to a large expenditure immediately? Why has it shown such resentment toward Gov. Nelson's request for a delay in commitments so that the state government can conduct a thorough study of the whole question? The unseemly haste of the Oshkosh leadership to make moves that would close off discussion speaks louder than words.

At this point, however, we think it would be a good idea for the people of both counties — of Oshkosh, Neenah-Menasha, Appleton and the other valley communities — to pause for a moment and reflect that the airport controversy is not the most important issue in the long run. The airport question will be settled one way or another: either a joint airport will be built (and this does not seem very likely now) or we will have two airports with the Outagamie facility getting about 75 per cent of the business and the Winnebago port about 25 per cent.

We happen to think that this latter solution will be tragically wrong — wrong for Oshkosh even more than for the Fox Cities communities. But the tragedy would be compounded many times over if this controversy were to leave in its wake feelings of bitterness and resentment here in the valley, which could affect relations among our communities for many years to come. We think the airport battle has reached a point of very real danger — where emotions have risen to the point where people are saying thoughtless things, where civic pride is being carried to the point of civic arrogance, where people are thinking in terms of a "battle" between communities that have much too much in common, and too great a need for each other, to engage in such battles.

The history of community development in the United States over the last half century abounds with lessons on the futility and wastefulness of inter-community warfare. When such warfare takes place, everyone who participates in it loses something. The best known example is Dallas and Fort Worth, where the rivalry has been carried to ridiculous extremes; another was Minneapolis and St. Paul, although they finally learned their lesson and in recent years have cooperated on a joint airport, major league baseball and football teams, and other projects. There are many other examples, where pride and prejudice and blind boundary-line thinking have led to wasteful duplication of facilities, and even worse, to lost opportunities for cooperation in many different fields of community action.

In this era, as the population of cities and villages and counties have spilled over old boundary lines, and superhighways and other new means of communication bind communities ever closer together, cooperation is the byword of community and regional progress. Real competition is no longer between cities, but between regions and states.

Here in the Fox Valley we have a tremendous opportunity to provide orderly growth and real economic and civic progress by working together for the good of all. Thus it is alarming to see signs of bitterness and anger in the words emanating from Oshkosh; to hear the tired slogans of narrow civic selfishness such as the silly charge that "Appleton is trying to dominate." We have been pleased, in recent years, to see signs of a civic revival in Oshkosh; its Chamber of Commerce and other groups have chalked up accomplishments which deserve praise and admiration from its neighbors. But it would be tragic were this new civic consciousness to take the form of building a fence at the north border of Oshkosh, of automatic suspicion of any offer of cooperation from Appleton or Neenah-Menasha.

The communities of the Fox Valley, of which Oshkosh is an important member, must join hands in an atmosphere of mutual respect if they are to successfully meet the challenges and opportunities that will face us during the coming decades. This is far more important than how many airports we are going to have, or where they are going to be built.

Ford and Social Problems

The Ford Foundation has reported that its grants for a variety of projects during the 10 years of its existence total more than $1.3 billion. More than a third of this amount, $533 million, went for formal education programs. The remainder was divided among such general fields as public affairs, arts and science, hospitals and medical schools.

The Foundation does not assess the value derived by the nation, groups or individuals from its vast outlay of funds, distributed with few strings attached, in its role as a non-governmental institution in helping to identify and solve pressing social problems. Some results probably never can be assessed; others, such as the Foundation's earmarking of funds to raise college teachers' salaries and to aid hospital expansion, have more of a measurable effect.

The Foundation recognizes and pursues its objective to help identify and solve the many problems which 20th century living has produced in areas where the government is playing more and more of an active role. At the same time, it agrees that government must do some things which individuals or groups cannot do because of limited resources. This philosophy, as it bears a relationship to governmental action in the field of human affairs, is expressed by Henry T. Heald, president of the Foundation. He says:

"Human needs are today served by government to an extent never imagined in the dawn of the American republic. Regardless of varying political philosophies, there is nearly universal agreement on the new role of government in certain functions of human welfare. Only government can marshal the resources needed to cope with certain complex and costly functions of society.

Automation in the Henhouse

The carefree chickens sauntering about the farmyard or speculating on whether or not to cross the road soon may be no more. Experiments have shown that the year round production of eggs can be improved by a pushbutton egg production system designed by a Minneapolis based company.

The company has developed what it calls a "high density layer system," in which each hen occupies exactly three-quarters of one square foot of floor space and is one of 10,000 birds in the henhouse.

These hens are served by highly automatic equipment which ventilates, feeds, waters, nests, lights and gathers eggs. The henhouse is so constructed as to provide the same climate for the working hens the year round whether the weather be hot or cold. The units have been used in North Carolina, Mississippi and Missouri and more recently in Elk River, Minn.

With these units one person can take care of three houses or 30,000 hens. The cost of the equipment runs about $3 for each hen. The system includes a brooder-house which can produce 10,000 new working hens every 20 weeks. Thus, each of the three houses can be restocked with new pullets every 13.5 months. It is claimed the pullets raised from 8 to 20 weeks under the system's controlled light program consume 9 per cent less feed than uncontrolled birds and the flocks produce 35.8 per cent more cash income than the more conventionally cared for flocks. The aimless but happy farmyard flock soon will be a thing of the past. They now are in the rigid confines of the assembly line both for the production of meat and of eggs. What the hens lose in happiness they will make up in increased efficiency.

Airport Controversy Brings Charge Of 'Pressure' and 'Polite Blackmail'

From The Oshkosh Northwestern

As announced in Tuesday's Daily Northwestern, the Outagamie County board yesterday, 40-13, adopted an enabling resolution authorizing a committee led by Mark Catlin to prepare site plans and compile data on size, probable costs and debt amortization for a new Outagamie County Airport five miles west of Appleton.

That would seem to settle the joint controversy. But does it? Prominent in the remarks of Mr. Catlin, former State Sen. Gordon Bubolz, a representative of the Kimberly-Clark Corporation and other speakers, was the sentiment that the ideal solution to the airport problem would be a joint facility in which Winnebago County would be a participant. In fact, one speaker even said Winnebago County should be approached two or three times more if necessary.

There can be no doubt that Appleton and Outagamie County interests belatedly realize the importance of a modern airport. But such facilities are costly. It is entirely possible that Outagamie County will proceed to build its own airport if Winnebago County continues to say no to the joint airport proposal. But it is also possible that the costs of such a project might discourage Outagamie County taxpayers. Despite the estimate of Leigh Fisher and Associates of $2,700,000 for a joint airport, other sources intimate that a 900-acre facility might cost between $5,000,000 and $10,000,000. If Winnebago County can be induced — or frightened — into becoming a part of the bi-county plan, that cost would be cut in two for Outagamie County and, what is more, a lively competitor would be eliminated.

Perhaps we are unduly suspicious but we see in Tuesday's action and the monumental campaign of propaganda and pressure at all levels that has been carried on since Winnebago County rejected the Outagamie proposal a technique that might be called polite blackmail. Bear in mind that if Outagamie does build an airport it may take years to complete. There is also the question of whether the federal government would be eager to pour in millions of aid to a facility only about 23 miles away from another airport in which large federal sums have been invested. Let's just review the campaign that has been carried on.

To begin with, some Neenah-Menasha interests including the Chamber of Commerce, were persuaded that such a joint airport would be to their advantage. They have ignored the fact that the airport here is an operational success and will become even better when expansion and improvement programs are completed. These improvements have already been approved at federal, state and county levels and the money allocated. They ignore the fact that Winnebago County Airport is seventh in the entire United States in patronage for a facility served only by local airlines. Also ignored is the fact five counties — Winnebago, Fond du Lac, Green Lake, Waushara — and even Outagamie — are well served and that this city is the hub of an 11-county metro mail service. They ignore, too, that, should the airport here be abandoned, Fond du Lac would undoubtedly ask airline service. No mention is made that Oshkosh is about 50 air miles from Green Bay and any lesser distance between stops is considered uneconomical and impractical.

There have been various joint airport controversies in Wisconsin but, so far as we know, they have been ignored by Gov. Gaylord Nelson. Now suddenly, for some inexplicable reason, he decides a study should be made. He is quoted as saying it doesn't make sense to him to have two scheduled airline airports in the middle of the Fox Valley. News stories also report he took State Aeronautics Director Thomas Jordan to task for supporting improvements at the Winnebago County Airport.

To show the way the wind is blowing, Gov. Nelson Tuesday asked the State Aeronautics Commission to postpone awarding contracts for construction at Winnebago County Airport. Understand, these improvements—including the control tower and the runway extension—had been approved by the federal, state and county governments following official hearings by the appropriate agencies. The contract for the control tower was to have been awarded shortly after opening of bids scheduled Jan. 16.

In taking such action, it seems to us, Governor Nelson — although saying he did so with reluctance — is violating a contract the state made with the federal and county governments. What is more, it appears he is implying the members of the Aeronautics Commission and Aeronautics Director Jordan — do not know their business. If these men are qualified for their jobs, and there is every reason to believe they are, Governor Nelson's action now seems entirely uncalled for. What, except the pressure campaign to which we referred, can have happened to change the picture since the projects were approved and funds allocated. Well, consider these facts:

At the session Tuesday, Roger Baird of Kimberly-Clark Corporation echoed the words spoken by William M. Wright, Kimberly-Clark vice president, who said that his company will transfer its appreciable business to Outagamie County if a new air-

MADISON — There is a popular illusion, sometimes cultivated by the politicians themselves, that the legislative representative in Washington or in Madison is the target of daily and heavy storms of mail from demanding constituents.

While the mail deliveries to the legislators are probably heavier than to most ordinary men in their private capacities, they are not nearly as large or as unmanageable as is sometimes supposed and told. Indeed, the representative system of government might very well work more effectively if more private citizens would sit down occasionally and communicate their views on current events to the men they have chosen to vote for them in the state or national capitals.

Every politician in his right mind wants to hear more from such people, and less from those with selfish purposes who are organized by professional pressure group directors to apply the heat according to a planned schedule.

Wyngaard

port is built. He is reported as saying it is not the few extra minutes or extra miles to the Oshkosh airport that are important but the fact that the north and east approaches are over congested areas and also that the Winnebago County Airport cannot be expanded. The argument that the facility here cannot be expanded can be disproved and we have heard no complaints from Neenah-Menasha or Appleton over the fact that approaches to Midway or O'Hare at Chicago or Mitchell Field at Milwaukee are over congested areas. The company, of course, is entirely within its rights in deciding to transfer its business to Outagamie County although such a move might seem ungrateful to some, since Winnebago County acceded to the company's request to build hangar facilities here to accommodate K-C planes, under a 15-year rental plan, expiring in 1966.

Only last week, too, State Sen. William Draheim of Neenah requested Mr. Jordan to hold up any further expenditures at the Winnebago County field until the Nelson-requested study is completed. In whose interests he was acting we do not know but we were under the impression he was elected to serve all of the people of the 19th District, including Winnebago and Calumet Counties, and not Outagamie County or only those residents in the Neenah-Menasha area.

We can understand why Outagamie County and Appleton interests are eager to have the Winnebago County Airport eliminated. This is part of Appleton's grandiose plans to absorb Neenah-Menasha and the other communities in the area and become the hub of the Fox Valley.

We do not see, however, why Oshkosh and the area to the south and west should be made the sacrificial lamb. Those people who do not believe a $2,500,000 successful airport should be sacrificed under such circumstances had better wake up. The Winnebago County board is to meet Jan. 17, and there are strong indications another effort will be made to sabotage the airport here. If you believe in the airport here and what it means to the county and city, tell your supervisor — and do it now. It might not be a bad idea, either, to let the Governor and our representatives in the Legislature know how you feel in the matter.

Eisenhower Address Sets U. S. Purpose

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower's farewell address to the nation and the world is a masterful expression of American purpose. It is also a historic message of advice to succeeding generations.

Lawrence

With no trace of ill - will toward anybody, and with good wishes to his successor, Mr. Eisenhower made some penetrating suggestions. For here speaks a man who has spent eight years struggling with the pressures of various groups. He warns especially against a "military-industrial complex" and the danger of developing a "scientific-technological elite" with too much influence on public policy.

The speech could perhaps best be described as a call for "balance," as opposed to erratic digressions in behalf of goals that seem desirable but must be viewed in perspective. He says:

"Crises there will continue to be. In meeting them, whether foreign or domestic, great or small, there is a recurring temptation to feel that some spectacular and costly action could become the miraculous solution to all current difficulties. A huge increase in newer elements of our defense; development of unrealistic programs to cure every ill in agriculture; a dramatic expansion in basic and applied research — these and many other possibilities, each possibly promising in itself, may be suggested as the only way to the road we wish to travel.

Must Avoid Plundering
"But each proposal must be weighed in the light of a broader consideration: The need to maintain balance in and among national programs — balance between the private and the public economy, balance between cost and hoped-for advantage — balance between the clearly necessary and the comfortably desirable; balance between our essential requirements as a nation and the duties imposed by the nation upon the individual; balance between the actions of the moment and the national welfare of the future. Good judgment seeks balance and progress; lack of it eventually finds imbalance and frustration. . . .

"Another factor in maintaining balance involves the element of time. As we peer into society's future, we — you and I, and our government — must avoid the impulse to live only for today, plundering, for our own ease and convenience, the precious resources of tomorrow. We cannot mortgage the material assets of our grandchildren without risking the loss also of their political and spiritual heritage."

These are words which will be reread in the years to come by many a president of the United States. For they urge a dispassionate examination of so-called "welfare" proposals, and a realistic decision as to what can or cannot be afforded and to what projects priority must be given, irrespective of pressure groups or political demagoguery.

Military Expenditures
Mr. Eisenhower is a military man, and yet some passages in his farewell address might well have been uttered by some of the civilian critics of excessive armament in the past. He intimates that a vested interest is growing up around the defense programs. More than three and a half million men and women, he points out, are directly engaged in the defense establishment, and the government now spends annually on military security "more than the net income of all United States corporations." He adds: "This conjunction of an immense military establishment and a large arms industry is new in the American experience. The total influence—economic, political, even spiritual—is felt in every city, every state house, every office of the federal government. We recognize the imperative need for this development. Yet we must not fail to comprehend its grave implications. Our toil, resources and livelihood are all involved; so is the very structure of our society."

"In the councils of government, we must guard against the acquisition of unwarranted influence . . . by the military - industrial complex. The potential for the disastrous rise of misplaced power exists and will persist. We must never let the weight of this combination endanger our liberties or democratic processes."

Much Remains
One wonders to what extent these thoughts were prompted by the overemphasis given the "missile gap" in the public prints and the effort of some members of Congress to make political capital out of the defense problem and foreign policy. Despite the skeptics, Mr. Eisenhower reiterates: "America is today the strongest, the most influential and most productive nation in the world."

The outgoing president does not say all is rosy. He expresses disappointment that progress on disarmament has not been greater. He speaks of the tragedy of war as a military man who has witnessed its horrors. He concludes wistfully:

"I wish I could say tonight that a lasting peace is in sight. Happily, I can say that war has been avoided. Steady progress toward our ultimate goal has been made. But, so much remains to be done!"

Bronchitis Commonly Refers to Cough; Causes Many, Varied

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

often disregarded, because the "Dear Dr. Molner: How do you treat or cure bronchitis? It can be a very aggravating and embarrassing cough. If there isn't a cure, is there anything that can be done to ease the condition? — E.R.D."

Dr. Molner the phlegmy throat, the sometimes hoarse and raspy voice.

But let's see what we mean when we discuss bronchitis. After we analyze the meaning of the word, we won't have as much trouble in deciding what to do about it.

Bronchitis is still another of the "wastebasket words" that includes all sorts of things, but doesn't mean any one thing in particular.

Specifically, bronchitis is inflammation of the bronchial tubes—but in common practice we use the word to mean any sort of rough throat or cough.

Many Causes
Irritation anywhere along the line in the upper respiratory passages can produce a cough—the nose, throat, larynx, large and small bronchial tubes.

Nasal catarrh, or post-nasal drip, whatever you care to call it, can produce a cough. Or chronic irritation from poor tonsils or adenoids, or polyps, or tumors.

And allergy can cause a cough—sensitivity to bacteria, molds or pollen. Molds are especially likely to produce a year-round cough. Or there can be irritation from chemicals sometimes. Not to mention the common cold. Some degree of true bronchitis—inflammation of the bronchial tubes—goes along with a cold. It clears up, of course, as you get over the cold.

Smoking
Excessive or even moderate smoking can be a cause but it is habit becomes so ingrained that people are reluctant to go to the extent of giving it up long enough to find out whether that is the trouble.

Besides, some people will insist that "I've been smoking for 30 years and it never bothered me before. It must be something else." Well, I guess we all try to fool ourselves once in a while, don't we?

Bronchiectasis, in which out-pouching occurs in the lower bronchial tubes, and traps phlegm there, is much more common than is generally appreciated, and is the cause of some violent coughing which may or may not bring up blood-tinged phlegm. Tuberculosis also is featured by a cough.

Emphysema, a condition which involves the small air sacs of the lungs, can cause a dry cough, often mistaken for bronchitis. Some types of heart trouble cause a chronic cough. So can pressure on the bronchial tubes from goiter or enlarged aorta.

So many causes for cough! So many for "Bronchitis!" I've said it before; I'll say it again: Pin down the cause, and then find the treatment.

Outdoors Only
"Dear Dr. Molner: Why is it such an effort for me to breathe when I walk even a short distance. say two blocks? I can work around the house for hours and not be bothered. Is it my lungs or my heart?—Mrs. G.M."

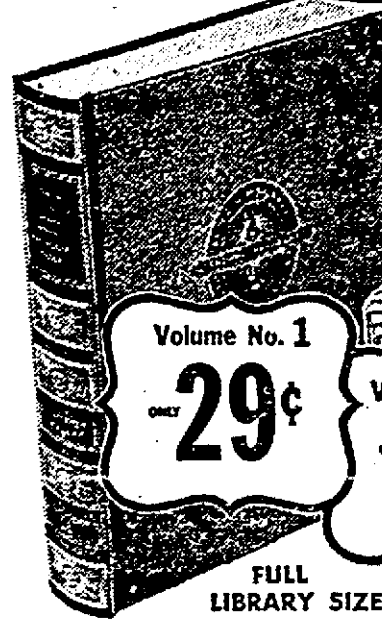

If walking doesn't bother you in the house, then I'd suspect that maybe your nerves are playing tricks on you. There's no reason why heart and lungs should behave nicely indoors but not outside.

Calcium Lack
MRS. E. R.M.: Lack of calcium is one of the common causes of bruising too easily. Have you tried drinking a glass or two of milk per day, for a few weeks? It often helps.

Russians Will Welcome New Administration

Hope for Happier Relations Between Nikita, Kennedy

BY PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP)—The inauguration of President-elect John F. Kennedy will be welcomed by the many Russians who are fatigued and frightened by the hard feelings between Premier Khrushchev and President Eisenhower.

The Soviets tend, naturally, to lay all the blame on Eisenhower for the end of the seemingly friendly relationship that blossomed at the President's Camp David in 1959, only to be blasted apart a few months later by a combination of events, including the U2 plane incident.

Whatever may have been the political or military factors that halted Khrushchev's move toward warmer relations, the summit conference breakup last May and the resultant worsening of relations caused only dismay among rank and file Soviet citizens.

It is a rare Soviet citizen these days who does not express hope that relations with Kennedy will be better—and immediately.

Pitch to Kennedy

Immediately after Kennedy's election, Khrushchev made a pitch for happier days with a message to the president-elect saying he hoped Soviet-U.S. relations would return to the path followed during the administration of Franklin D. Roosevelt. On New Year's Eve Khrushchev warmly toasted America and offered to put aside old memories in the interest of better relations.

Last November, Khrushchev won a battle at the Communist summit conference in Moscow for the Socialist world's approval of its efforts toward a reconciliation in Berlin.

Child Rescued at Last Moment From Burning Apartment

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A little girl was rescued from a burning apartment Tuesday just as the flames reached the bed on which she was sitting.

Kim Kiel, the 2½-year-old daughter of Mrs. Shirley Kile, was pulled to safety by William Owings, 21, an apprentice machinist and resident with his family in the same building in West Allis.

Owings said he tried three windows in the basement apartment before he found the right one, then smashed the window pane and entered the burning room.

Kim suffered second and third degree burns from the flames which had reached the bed.

Owings said he only singed his hair and sustained a few minor cuts from smashing the glass.

Fire department authorities said the flames caused $3,000 damage and got their start from a short circuit.

with the United States. But on no front has the Soviet premier shown the slightest sign of retreat as a friendly gesture toward Kennedy.

Khrushchev has set a relatively fast timetable for his work with Kennedy. He said late last year he wanted the troublesome question of a divided Germany settled before the end of 1961.

He declared he is not prepared to wait until September, when West Germany elects a new Parliament, and Tuesday he hurled a new threat to sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany. Once more he made clear that his goal is unchanged, to get the Western Allies out of Berlin.

Iowa Town in Turmoil Problems Created by $2 Million Bank Theft

SHELDON, Iowa (AP) — The standing checks all over the county economy of this small town in northwestern Iowa was in a state of confusion today as the result of a $2-million embezzlement from the Sheldon National Bank.

There were payrolls to be met, outstanding checks that seemed sure to encounter trouble, citizens without funds and local business records in financial disarray.

In jail, beyond the reach of persons seeking public answers to the questions of how and why it all happened, was Burnice Geiger, 58, daughter of the bank president.

The U.S. district attorney's office in Sioux City said Mrs. Geiger — a director and assistant cashier of the bank—admitted the embezzlement. A prominent citizen, she was known for her charitable works.

Bank Closed

Her father, W.P. Iverson, 83, president of the bank for 45 years, could only say: "I'm all choked up."

The bank was closed for liquidation by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. after a routine audit by federal bank examiners turned up the shortage Monday night.

Officials of the FDIC were checking the records of deposits which were insured up to $10,000 each. The bank's last statement on Dec. 31 listed total assets at $1,995,000. The embezzlements were estimated at $2,126,859.

The sentiments among businessmen was summarized by the comment of one: "We've heard the boom, now we're waiting for the echo."

Other Bank Busy

The manager of a big soybean processing company which distributes products in the Midwest said that his company has "out-

The only financial institution remaining in Sheldon, the Security State Bank, was deluged with requests for aid in solving money needs.

Townpeople had great difficulty believing Mrs. Geiger embezzled the bank funds. Many whom she had personally aided refused to credit the report.

Mrs. Geiger was held at Sioux City on a charge of embezzlement for a grand jury set to convene there Jan. 30. She waived a hearing and did not immediately make bail set at $10,000.

themselves unable to do the job because of ancient restrictions," he went on.

Nelson flatly endorsed these proposals for modernization of local government, almost all of which are highly controversial, and none of which at the moment is favored for quick approval in the legislature led by men reflecting traditional rural and small town political interests.

County Executive Office

Permitting cities to annex territory on their own initiative, without the need for petitions from the residents and property owners of the areas involved.

Allowing counties at their option to create the office of county executive, after the pattern already established for Milwaukee county.

Elimination of the requirement that cities and villages must obtain a jury finding of public necessity in the exercise of the power of eminent domain—the condemnation of property for public use.

Relaxation of the requirement that a single, uniform system of county government must prevail and permitting the legislature to provide a limited number of alternatives from which counties could choose according to their conditions and circumstances.

A broader power of annexation, said Nelson, "is vital to the future of our urban areas."

Ike Sees Early Sound Growth For Economy

1962 appropriations "be held within the limits of expected revenues."

It then repeated all the tax proposals of Monday's budget message and other measures—most of them identical with last year's requests.

They included: postal rate increases to make the postal system self-supporting; removal of the 4½ per cent interest ceiling on government bonds; additional legislation to assist chronically depressed areas; a "moderate" increase in the $1 minimum wage.

In all its 214-page length, the message never spoke of a recession, business dip, or downturn as marking the closing months of the Republican administration.

It referred to "moderate" late-1960 declines in production and employment as being mainly the result of industry's liquidation of an over-accumulation of inventories, and suggested that this may soon be stopped and inventory-buying resumed.

"An increase in general economic activity should not, accordingly, be long delayed," the President said.

Fire, Park 5-Year Plans Revised

Works Board Also Opens Bond Bids, Advances Goodland Roof

Several shifts in the fire and park departments' proposed five-year capital improvements programs for Appleton were approved by the Board of Public Works Tuesday.

The board also recommended acceptance of Appleton First National Bank's bid on general obligation bonds, approved purchase of lights for new engineering department offices on the second floor of City Hall, recommended that the city engage a consultant engineer to plan a roof for Goodland Field grandstand.

The board agreed to ask for a site this year for a new downtown fire station, which would be built after bond issue in 1964. It estimated $90,000 for the site and $150,000 for the station. A previous draft of the five-year plan listed $250,000 for site and building in 1965.

A $100,000 northwest fire station, previously suggested for 1963 or 1965, was put in the list for 1964 bond issues.

Budget Items
Budget items for the fire department in the next five years include a northeast fire station, site for the northwest station and fire-fighting equipment.

Discussing an offer of a downtown site at Superior and Packard Streets, some board members doubted the advisability of putting a station north of the Chicago and North Western railroad tracks.

Fire Chief Alfred Arnold said only once in 28 years have trains delayed fire trucks going north from the present station. Arnold said fire underwriters didn't seem to object to the Packard Street site but wanted to meet with city officials before a decision is made.

Drill Tower
Arnold said a drill tower proposed for the site of the new downtown station would be four stories high, with inside dimensions of about 14 by 14 feet and stairways connecting the floors.

Park board members said a 160-acre tract west of 41 and south of 10 off Mayflower Road, once thought of as a park, golf course and nursery site, no longer is available, but the Board of Public Works left $75,000 for a large park in the list of unscheduled improvements. The city needs a big park for industrial picnics and other large gatherings, park board members said, because Pierce Park has become too small.

They said Appleton has only about half the park area it should have for its population and urged the city to buy land while it is still vacant and inexpensive.

The works board put a $43,500

Erb Park shelter, building and lighting project, formerly deleted from the five-year plan, into the unscheduled improvements list. The building would provide year-round facilities for use by skaters, the park board said.

Low Interest
The city would pay an interest rate of 2.23 per cent to First National Bank of Appleton on $176,000 of general obligation bonds. The bank offered to buy the bonds at gross interest of $24,640, less $10,903 premium, or net interest of $13,736.

Board members were happily surprised at the low interest rate. The only other bid was for an effective interest rate of 2.887 per cent.

The board authorized the electrical department to install fluorescent lights in the new engineering offices as provided by a lighting plan worked out by General Electric Supply Co., with fixtures to be bought from General Electric.

Offer Planning
City Clerk Elden Broehm objected to getting the fixtures from GE, because the city had not sought bids from more than two firms. Other departments have to advertise for bids for such large purchases, he said.

Director of Public Works Edwin J. Duszynski, supported by the electrical department, argued that GE and Moe Northern Co. were the only two companies that offered lighting planning service. GE's offer was for $805, less 2 per cent, for 12 new fixtures similar to the eight presently in the offices, which would be relocated. The plan would provide 70 foot candles of light in all areas at a cost of $1.16 per linear foot of

cent, or $1.18 per linear foot, and one for $891 less 1 per cent, or $1 per linear foot. These would introduce a new type fixture, which Duszynski did not want.

Grandstand Roof
The board agreed that the engineer for the grandstand roof should not be a potential contractor. Two firms already have submitted offers for engineering and erecting the roof. After plans are completed, the city will advertise for construction bids.

Assessment bills will be sent out for sanitary sewer completed on N. Linwood Avenue between Glendale Avenue and Brewster Street, and for sanitary sewer and water main installed on Arlington Street 247 feet south of E. College Avenue.

The board accepted the grading and graveling done by Badger Highways on an alley between Silver Crest Drive and Ballard Road.

It was agreed to give a janitress who works 30 hours a week in City Hall a $15 monthly raise, three-fourths of the raise granted full-time employees.

Board of Public Works, Street and Sanitation Committee and Public Works Department employees will be asked to attend a sewer and culvert construction seminar sponsored by Concrete Pipe Corp. at the Appleton American Legion Club on Feb. 2.

Schools Should Set Goals, Kurtz Tells PTA Units

To meet the challenge of tomorrow, schools should reevaluate their purpose and set goals, including the teaching of basic skills to children of all abilities, and cooperate with the people of the community, Appleton School Supt. Royce E. Kurtz said in his first public speech here.

Kurtz told about 250 members of Franklin, Huntley and Jackson Parent-Teachers Associations that the educational system needs definite goals as well as the general ones of developing character and skills, but declined to mention specific goals until he has had more time to study Appleton's schools and their needs.

Heart Association To Distribute Leaflets

A new leaflet, "Protecting Your Family," will be distributed by the Wisconsin Heart Association during February, Heart Month.

The leaflet will have information on heart attacks, rheumatic fever, high blood pressure, and strokes, the four main forms of heart and circulatory disease. Copies will be available from Heart Fund volunteers or from the Wisconsin Heart Association.

Steffke Becomes Subsidiary of Spector Freight

CHICAGO (AP) — Steffke Freight Co. of Wausau, Wis., today formally became a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Spector Freight System, Inc., Chicago, completing merger of the two trucking firms.

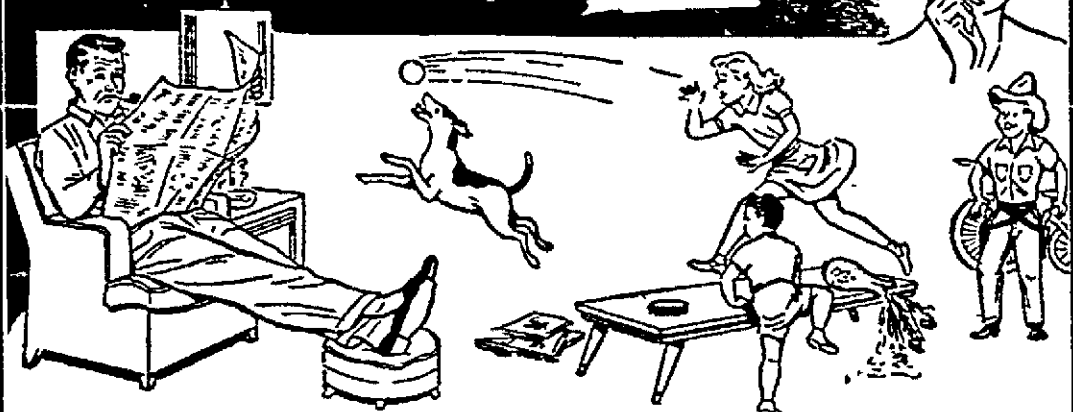

Wilfred Stanhaus, Spector president, said he expects Steffke, which has been operating at a loss to date, to show a profit this year as a result of consolidation economies, fleet modernization and the earnings deficit which will eliminate federal income tax this year.

Steffke, with 1960 revenues of $3,425,000, presently operates major terminals in Eau Claire, Fond du Lac, Green Bay, Rhinelander and Wausau, Wis.; Chicago, Rock Island and Rockford, Ill., and St. Paul, Minn. It also has a Fox Cities terminal.

Spector has managed the Steffke operation under temporary authority of the Interstate Commerce Commission since July 1959. Permission to purchase Steffke was granted by the ICC last November.

On the House

Kennedy Seems to Have Escaped Fun and Whiplash of Our Humor

BY CHARLES HOUSE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

It is an interesting note that there has been no large number of jokes, either manufactured or spontaneous, on the newly elected President of the United States.

It is the custom of American people to apply copious amounts of humor to almost every newsworthy situation and person but it seems to me that this new presidential matter has been largely without humor.

I do not know why; I would like to. I cannot recall that any person ever came to the top of the news without being made the subject of a nearly incredible rash of jokes. Presidents, all of them, have been the subject if not the butt of many a titter. We have recently gone through eight long years of jokes on President Eisenhower—mainly having to do with his golf and his placidity.

And when Liberace came into the news! The jokes and the jabs and the jibes were mountainous in quantity.

When Christine Jorgenson hit the pages of America's newspapers, the full swell of American humor made her one of the most fascinating bases of Yankee guffaws.

We make jokes on everything—even Russia's movements into the outer space, well in advance of our own efforts.

Soviet Space Dog

Remember Curly, the Red pooch, who soared aloft in a Russian satellite?

Americans referred to that airborne dog as an "airdale," and someone said, "Ah, at last I have a wolf over my head!" And they called it Mutnik, after Sputnik number one.

And, you remember that Curly's girl friend in Russia was said to be saying "Somebody up there loves me." Americans were saying, too, that Russia was preparing to send up not just a dog, but a herd of cattle. That, according to one version, would be "the herd shot around the world."

So we covered outer space thoroughly with our humor. But it was big in the news, as is the election of Kennedy. Yet where are the jokes?

When a new character appears on the American scene in full bloom, we have made our jokes. But there are none on Kennedy. Why?

came to the public eye — except Kennedy.

One, even after the death of FDR, had it that a special guard had been assigned to watch Roosevelt's grave. The purpose, said the jokesters, was to keep him from getting up and running for election again.

When the telephone took to the air it was the subject of jokes for years, and when nylon stockings came on the market they, too, were the subject of jokes. One of them was that "they cover a multitude of pins."

When the telephone first appeared upon the scene, there were jokes aplenty. One of them had a German burgher telephoning a friend. When he was asked what he thought of the telephone, he said, "The instrument is no good. It speaks only English."

Every major topic of interest has been the base of a joke, or a flurry of them.

When Henry Ford put his little old car on the market, the jokes were in such great volume that many may never be forgotten.

One of the jokes of the period had a man send some baling wire to the Ford plant in Detroit. Several months later an automobile was delivered to him. With it came a letter which read:

"Please excuse the long delay. Your car was in terrible shape and it has required all this time to repair it."

Bloomers and Suffrage

When Amelia Bloomer in the 1850's created those ugly things she-called "bloomers" the jokes were many and mighty.

And when woman suffrage was on the front page of the nation's newspaper there was no end to suffrage jokes. One from the period had a young suffragette complain to an old, toughened campaigner in the cause. Everybody was making fun of her suffrage activities, said the young one.

"Well, don't worry," said the old leader. "Just put your faith in God. She'll see you through!"

'Sell Free World,' Dr. John H. Furbay Tells Altrusa Club's Civic Night Diners

The Rev. M. E. Schilling, of First Methodist Church, Dr. John H. Furbay and the Rev. Gerald Falk, of St. Mary Catholic Church, discuss some of Dr. Furbay's travels before the start of the dinner. The Rev. Mr. Schilling was a student of Dr. Furbay at Taylor University. Father Falk led the invocation at the civic night affair.

BY KATHY REARDON
Post-Crescent Society Editor

"If we can sell refrigerators to the Eskimos, we certainly can sell the free world," Dr. John H. Furbay, New York, told 361 Altrusa Club members and guests at the club's civic night dinner Tuesday at Appleton Elks Club.

Speaking on "Wings over the world and business in a changing world," Dr. Furbay noted that at the beginning of the 20th century, only one-third of the world's population was civilized.

The people are emerging, their isolation has ended due to the speed with which ideas travel, he said. "We can civilize completely in one single generation if people are brought fully in contact with civilization," Dr. Furbay explained.

He cited the principal vehicles bringing about this emerging, namely the conveyance of ideas through pictures, which later became our alphabet, the discovery of the wheel, which brought about the machine age and the development of air travel, thus speeding up the act of communication.

Dr. Furbay noted few people in this country realize a change also is taking place in other countries, and sometimes at a greater speed than in the United States. One of these countries is the Belgian Congo. Misconceptions about the Congo and its independence are many, Furbay added.

The atrocities attributed to the uncivilized and the civilized groups were not committed by them but by the half-civilized people who had given up their tribal disciplines and had not yet become oriented in the civilized discipline. Rather, they were floundering between, he said.

Did Lousy Job
The second misconception was the idea that the Belgians did a poor job in the Congo.

"But we must remember," Furbay stated, "that the Congo is the largest of the African colonies. The Belgians worked only 55 years to develop it, contrasted to the many years spent educating people in the British colonies. The Belgians brought the Congo from the stone age into the space age."

The problem was their timing, he said. Proper training for government positions was lacking when independence arrived. The Lumumba brothers were schooled in Moscow in the art of rioting, a vehicle of Communism, which brought about the Belgian crash. On July 1, 1960, the colony was given its independence without a government. Riots broke out, forcing the white population to flee. Dr. Furbay called to the audience's attention the airlift which evacuated 60,000 people in a month. Thus, the second stage of the blueprint was reached: all the white people capable of running the government were out. What next?

Off Schedule
Moscow also was off schedule on its timetable on its estimate of the African people's intelligence, he said. The arrival of the United Nations brought an end to the Russians' scheme. "The last chapter of the Con-

Committee Members Miss Ruth Davis, Marie Biese and Miss Genevieve Mortell look over the blue-covered programs made by the committee. Blue and white are Altrusa Club's official colors and were reflected throughout the dining room at Appleton Elks Club.

Last Minute Preparations were handled by Miss Viola Kampe, general chairman, and Mr. and Mrs. George J. Hoffer. Mrs. Hoffer was in charge of reservations for Altrusa Club's civic night. In the foreground is one of the table decorations carrying out the international theme of Altrusa — peace, understanding and progress.

go story is not yet written, Furbay declared, and that is whether the country will enjoy a Communist or democratic government.

Which way that uncivilized two-thirds will go, into the Communist or the free world, will determine the way our world will be going by the end of the century, he said.

Dr. Furbay, noted as the airborne orator who stops just long enough to hold a conference or give a speech, flew his audience into Ethiopia, where he introduced them to a family, including the grandfather whom our history books call a savage.

"These people are just as civilized as we are," Furbay stressed. "They open their homes, as we, invite people to join them for dinner, as we, and converse with them the same as the so-called civilized race."

The Ethiopians had no outside contact until the air age opened. Now they can learn as can any American, provided the opportunities are equal.

Flying Jets
The first generation out of the bush are flying jets, repairing them, operating the controls and now are planning their own television station. The people are joking about their skin color, thus losing their inferiority complex and discovering they can do exactly what others can do.

Russia also was visited by Dr. Furbay and the audience. "Russia is far behind, but by the trickery of propaganda, it has made half the people believe they are far better off than people in the United States," he said.

"We are letting Russia out-sell us," Dr. Furbay commented, "and we are the people who invented salesmanship."

Dr. Furbay, who was selected by Trans World Airlines to direct its cultural and educational program in 1945, covers 25 countries on four continents and flies a quarter of a million miles a year.

Annual Dinner
Miss Viola M. Kampe was general chairman of arrangements at the annual dinner and was assisted by Mrs. George J. Hoffer, Miss Marie Biese, Miss Doris Keup, Mrs. John Engel, Jr., Miss Ruth Davis, Miss Marie Byrne, Miss Frances But-fum, Miss Althea Doman, Mrs. G. H. Kissinger, Mrs. C. J. Puetz, Miss Genevieve Mortell and Miss Annabelle Wolf. Mrs. C. F. Hatch, president, presided.

Bachelor Solves Laundry Problem

If space to dry your laundry is a problem, here's a tip—from a bachelor! His kitchen is too small for a drying rack, and he has an aversion to cluttering up his bathroom.

So, during "at home" evenings, he uses as many as three automatic coin washers in his apartment house basement. Then he hangs his laundry on a portable rack set up in his living room. Never underestimate a bachelor as an efficient home manager.

Mrs. Clifford Hatch, president of Altrusa Club, chats with her husband before the guests arrived. Mrs. Hatch introduced the guests, including Mayor and Mrs. Clarence Mitchell, and presented the officers and committee members of the club.

Simonetta Collection Applauded

BY PATRICIA GREEN
FLORENCE, Italy (AP)—Controversial Roberto Capucci raised a furor at the Italian fashion openings Tuesday night, but Simonetta took most of the bows with an idea she carried over from fall.
With the Big Four of Roman couture all showing their new collections, it was the biggest day of the Florence showings of spring and summer fashions.
Simonetta stuck to her "boyish look" — rounded, parenthesis-shaped sleeves, slightly arched at the shoulders, that were engineered on loose, sometimes bias-cut coats and on rather high-waisted swagger suits.
Round Necklines
The collection brought unanimous, foot-stomping approval from buyers and press. The audience loved the full, arched-sleeve coats and dandified, turn-of-the-century suits, all with round glass buttons that looked like giant marbles.
Simonetta's long and short evening clothes had rounded necklines and arched sleeves cut short. There were both bright colors and black.
Simonetta outshone her competitor husband, Fabiani. He, too, stuck to a theme of last season, wide, kimono sleeves on loose coats. Some beautifully shaped dresses — sleeveless, collarless, and with a soft, flaring chemise line — were under the coats.
Dramatic Designs
Capucci came later in the evening. Buyers and press were sharply divided over whether his clothes were dreams or nightmares. But the audience liked his dramatic evening clothes and gave him an ovation for effort.
Capucci did 1930 costumes in murky colored crepes that

The Ailing House Preserving Wood From Old Tree

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN
PRESERVING WOOD "SLICE"
Question: After felling a cherry tree, I cut a 3" thick slice from the trunk, planning to make a table top some time in the future. How can I preserve this slice? Still has the bark on it.—Baltimore, Md.
Answer: One method often used by sculptors is to treat the wood with a good many coats of pure, fresh, white shellac, thinned with equal parts of denatured alcohol. Allow plenty of time between coats for drying. The idea is to let this nearly water-thin solution soak into the wood pores. This helps greatly in preventing cracks from developing later on when the wood dries.
KEEPING WINDOW WELLS DRY
Mr. R. B., Racine, sends in an alternative suggestion (other than installing drain pipe from the bottom) for preventing window wells being filled with rain water: Have a glass dealer cut a piece of quarter-inch store window glass slightly larger than the top of the window well. As a fairly watertight gasket, where the straight edge of glass meets house siding, he suggests filling the edge of glass into an equal length of ordinary hose (a slit can be cut along one side of hose with a table saw, and the sides of the slit can be snapped firmly over the edge of the glass). If the sides of the window well are of corrugated metal, a similar hose gasket can be fitted over the top edge of the metal, a similar hose gasket can be fitted over the top edge of the metal, giving the glass a good resting place. If the sides are of masonry, let the glass rest directly on it. This "lift-off" glass cover will admit light, but keep out most of the rain and other debris that frequently collects inside. Many thanks, Mr. R. B.!

Troop 302 Girl Scouts, Franklin School, learned first hand some of the customs of Mexico when they met at 3:30 p.m. Jan. 11. Miss Christy Yerkes, a sixth grade student at Franklin School who lived in Mexico for eight years, shared some of her experiences with her fellow scouts. One of the most enjoyable customs for children of that country is the pinata, a decorative bag made of paper and filled with treats. Miss Yerkes is pictured tying a stick with which the youngsters will break the pinata. Looking on are Laura Ward, Louise Wilcox and Sally Christensen.

Mamie Eager to Begin Puttering Around Home

BY JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor
NEW YORK (AP)—"The general and I feel like children just released from school," wrote the First Lady shortly before her husband stepped out of office to retire to their country home.
That was 164 years ago, and the President's wife was Martha Washington.
But you can almost hear Mamie Eisenhower saying it, as she and the general prepare to leave Washington for their 500-acre farm at Gettysburg, Pa.
It's the first home they've ever owned, and Mrs. Eisenhower probably is eager to trade the responsibilities that go with running the 107-room White House for the joys of puttering around her own house. "I've been supremely happy as a housewife," she has said—and she wants to be one again.
Youngest First Lady
She will be something more than that however, from a historic point of view. At 64 Mamie Eisenhower will be the youngest of four living former First Ladies, sharing the distinction with Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and Mrs. Harry Truman.
The oldest is Edith Bolling Bait Wilson, now 88, who still lives in Washington in the 26-room house her husband bought in 1921 when he left the White House. He died there three years later.
A large woman who likes somewhat elaborate clothes, Mrs. Wilson comes out of seclusion rarely these days except for ceremonial occasions. She plans to attend the inauguration Friday.
Portrait of Husband
Not long ago she turned up at the debut Mamie Eisenhower gave for her two nieces. Mrs. Wilson was observed standing in quiet meditation beneath a portrait of her late husband hanging over the fireplace in the Red Room.
The next oldest former First Lady maintains a schedule that would exhaust a woman half her age. At 76, Eleanor Roosevelt is still a dynamo of activity.
Many Interests
She travels extensively, makes innumerable speeches, writes a daily newspaper column and monthly magazine feature, lectures on international relations, appears on radio and television, answers a steady stream of mail with meticulous care and works hard for her favorite causes, particularly the American Association for the United Nations and the Democratic party.
Visit Daughter
As she once explained it: "You see, I have nothing to do but work. I have no family responsibilities and no professional career. I can take on anything that comes along and seems worthwhile."
She spends her summers mostly at the family home in Hyde Park, N.Y., and her winters in a New York apartment. Sometimes she makes disparaging remarks about her memory, but she never forgets a birthday or anniversary of her large family of children, grandchildren, great grandchildren.

Also family-minded is Bess Truman, now living quietly with the former president in their rambling home in Independence, Mo. She runs the household, shops, plays bridge with her friends. Occasionally they come to New York to visit their daughter Margaret, her husband Clifton Daniel, and their two young sons.
Now 75, Mrs. Truman has avoided publicity perhaps more than any other First Lady in recent years. She once said that good health and a well developed sense of human are the greatest assets for a president's wife.
Other First Ladies undoubtedly concur.

scouring powder. If this isn't successful, the only other suggestion I can offer is to touch up the area with a porcelain stove repair material, available many hardware and housewares dealers, applying a thin coating and feathering the edges carefully to the surface of the surrounding area.

Full Skirts Shown in British Line

LONDON (AP)—Charles Creed, one of Britain's leading designers, opened the London fashion showings today with a blow at pencil-slim skirts.
The Creed line came out with fluffy, billowy skirts with flares, pleats of all kinds and panels widening to the hem.
One of the skirts had men's trouser creases in back and in front.
To go with the free and relaxed skirts, Creed provided Russian-type blouses. There were also little bloused waistcoats in leather, employing bright red, white and blue colors.
Rounded shoulders in the jackets and Magyar sleeves emphasized Creed's efforts to soften the contours.
The designer showed no preferences in necklines this time, using some with stand-up collars and some with flat ones. On silk dresses, he employed square necks.
Jacket-length capes fitting the shoulders gently and falling into folds at the sides, maintained the freedom of movement motif.

Time Needed to Review Policies

Believe Kennedy Will Avoid New Proposals Until Spring, Summer

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — The incoming Kennedy administration needs a foreign policy breathing spell of several months after inauguration to get its policies in shape for major negotiations with the Soviet Union.

Well-informed diplomats believe President-elect John F. Kennedy and his secretary of state-designate, Dean Rusk, will seek to avoid any important new foreign commitments or proposals until next spring or summer.

Meantime Kennedy and Rusk will have to deal with crises as they arise. The most urgent of these at present is the civil war in Laos where both the United States and the Soviet Union are involved through aid to the contending factions.

The breathing spell, as the diplomats see it, will be a period of intensive policy review in Washington and probably top-level Allied consultation. There is some speculation that after a period of months Kennedy might be interested in arranging a completely informal, brief, talk with Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

Certainly, it is believed here, Kennedy would want to meet with Allied leaders briefly and informally before any get-together with Khrushchev. There also is speculation that perhaps in the spring he would undertake a flying visit to Europe to see such men as British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, French President Charles de Gaulle and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany.

Kennedy has been in frequent touch with Rusk, whose headquarters are in the State Department. Their conferences are understood to have been primarily concerned with developments in Laos, Cuba, and other trouble spots and with the selection of chief officials for the State Department.

Recall Diplomat
One early move which the experts consider probable is the recall from Moscow of Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson for consultation. Kennedy is sure to be under steady pressure from Khrushchev to say whether he would eventually be willing to have a summit conference.

His inauguration speech Friday and his first news conference next Wednesday will be carefully examined abroad not only in the Soviet Union but in Allied and neutral countries for indications of his intentions.

While Khrushchev has made a number of statements since November asserting a desire for better relations with the United States once President Eisenhower has left the White House, officials here see no basis at all for believing that he is planning to make concessions in the interest of East-West agreements.

Jailed Mayor of Town In Georgia Submits Resignation to Council

WARNER ROBINS, Ga. (AP) — Mayor Kemo A. Harrison, imprisoned on federal bank fraud charges, has resigned despite a state court finding he could continue as mayor while in jail.

The 49-year-old city official, who won reelection to a second 4-year term in November while serving a year and a day on federal bank fraud charges, submitted his resignation to city commission last night.

In his letter he cited declining health and said the resignation "would tend to effect an earlier release" from the federal correctional institute at Tallahassee, Fla. He did not elaborate.

Efforts to unseat Harrison apparently had been defeated. Several days ago Houston county superior court Judge A. M. Anderson struck down a suit seeking to oust him as mayor of this city of 18,500 population.

Former Jap Naval Officer Tells of Encounter With Kennedy's PT Boat

BY KOHEI HANAMI

TOKYO (AP)—It stuns me to think how close we came to destroying the new president of the United States, John F. Kennedy, one black night in the Pacific during World War II.

I can remember that night very clearly.

It was about 2 a.m. Aug. 1, 1943. My ship, the Amagiri, was returning from a supply mission to our troops in Kolobangara, in the Solomon Islands.

It was a starless night. Rain threatened and visibility was poor. I stood on the bridge, straining to see as we moved northward up Blackett Strait.

Spotted Boat

I had ordered battle alert, since we were under constant harassment by U.S. planes in the daytime and by night raiders and torpedo boats at night.

Suddenly we spotted an object churning up white waves about 1,000 meters to our starboard. I realized it was a torpedo boat and cried out, "Ten degrees turn, full speed ahead!"

Such "crash strategy" was supposed to be the best way to meet a torpedo boat attack. Our destroyer moved headlong toward the smaller boat at 30 knots.

Ship Breaks Up
We crashed right into it. I saw the enemy ship break in two with

In a World War II skirmish, President-elect John F. Kennedy's torpedo boat was rammed and sunk by a Japanese destroyer. Kennedy was 26 at the time and his adversary, Lt. Comdr. Kohei Hanami, was 34. In this story, as Hanami told it to Gene Kramer of The Associated Press, the skipper recalls the 1943 incident and gives his views of Kennedy today.

Miller Brewing Buys Gettleman For $1 Million

Miller Brewing Co. has acquired A. Gettleman Brewing Co., one of Milwaukee's smaller brewers, in a cash transaction involving more than $1 million.

The Gettleman brewery, located four blocks from the big Miller plant in Milwaukee, has 80 employees. Its principal distribution is in Wisconsin with some sales in neighboring states. Production in 1960 amounted to 132,285 barrels of beer, less than 50 per cent of its 300,000-barrel-a-year capacity.

Norman Klug, Miller president, said the Gettleman brands would be continued, and the brewery's operations would remain unchanged. Thomas R. and Fred W. Gettelman, Jr., will continue to head the operation.

Miller, which distributes its beer throughout the country and in some 60 foreign countries, has an average annual employment of 2,200. Production is centered entirely in Milwaukee. Miller's sales last year amounted to 2,376,543 barrels of beer.

Both Miller and Gettelman are family-owned firms.

State Solons Introduce Bill For Milk Laws

Uniform Sanitation Rules Sought in Interstate Market

Post-Crescent Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON — Two members of the Wisconsin house delegation have introduced a bill directing the secretary of agriculture to set uniform sanitation laws for marketing milk in interstate commerce.

Both Reps. Melvin R. Laird, Marshfield, and Verron W. Thomson, Richland Center, sponsors of the legislation, hope this measure will receive better treatment at the hands of the house agriculture committee, to which it was referred, than did similar bills introduced in previous years.

Uniform Standards
These former bills, which also set up uniform sanitation standards for fluid milk being shipped from one state to another, always were referred to the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce, where they subsequently gathered dust in committee files.

The new bill will, if enacted, pave the way for free flow of milk in interstate commerce, but will by-pass the Interstate Commerce Committee.

Also included in the new measure introduced by Laird and Thomson was a provision making permanent the present requirement that military and veterans' facilities use dairy products, including butter, whenever possible, instead of substitutes.

A third provision of the bill would make the children's milk program a permanent one.

16 Directors Attend First CD Meeting

Sixteen of the 30 municipal civil defense directors in Outagamie county attended a "mandatory" training meeting Tuesday night, the first county meeting called by Lee Penney, city-county CD director, since taking his post in July.

Penney discussed the county survival plan, which he worked out using the state plan, and the role of the municipalities in the county plan. This plan has been approved by the state and will be up for approval at a joint civil defense meeting Jan. 23.

The joint CD committee of the county will include the executive county committee and the 6-member Appleton CD committee.

A new warning system, also up for approval Jan. 23, is a phone warning system for contacting all directors after word of an alert is received at the Appleton police station. Sequence lists for the system already have been given to the telephone company.

Penney discussed the role of the directors in the 1961 CD education program, which will train about 650 people in the county at a cost of $6,000. Directors were given copies of CD booklets, home preparedness displays, and a national survival program. A film strip, which will be included in the training program, was shown.

Firm Asks to Improve S. Greenview Street

H. E. Hanson, Inc., has asked Appleton for permission to have private contractors, with city supervision, install water main and sewer laterals and grade and gravel S. Greenview Street between Taft and Roseland Avenues.

The company wants to have the work done in early spring, wrote Abraham Sigman, secretary of the firm.

Found in California Pair Held by Police For Taking Boy, 12

An Appleton couple is being a 12-year-old boy to California held in Long Beach, Calif., on a without his father's consent.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Grode, charge that they interfered with the custody of a child by taking W. Rogers Ave., were arrested by Long Beach police. Charles S. Blake, route 1, Campbellsport, charged that his former wife and her husband took the boy to California Jan. 8 after he brought the boy here for a two-hour visit.

Outagamie County Sheriff Rob. Heinritz said Blake has received a post card from his son saying he had been forced to go to California. The card included the address of a motel in Long Beach and the assumed name his mother used in registering.

In 1952, Mrs. Grode was sent to Winnebago State Hospital after facing an attempted murder charge in Fond du Lac County, Heinritz said. She was charged with tying the boy to a bed and setting the house afire.

She and Blake were divorced in 1955. He was given custody of the boy, but in 1959 she was granted visitation rights.

The union said that its proposal will bring pay in line with prevailing wages this spring and summer.

Under the proposal, street, curb and gutter laborers would be given a 10-cent raise, except powder man — blaster would remain at the $3.50 an hour. Building and construction wages would go up 7 cents, except that men doing excavation for underpinnings of foundations, walls, footings and floors would be raised from $2.57 to $2.82 an hour. Utility and tunnel workers would be given 10-cent increases.

The union's letter will be read to the City Council tonight.

Girl, 10, Injured When Struck by Car

Mary Jane Frye, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Frye, 802 N. Drew St., received a cut lip and head injuries at 11:07 a.m. Tuesday when she was struck by a car in front of Columbus School on Oneida St.

The car was driven by Ernest R. Muron, 52, route 1, Winneconne, police said. The girl reportedly was ill and was leaving school early. She was taken to Appleton Memorial Hospital by an Appleton police car. She is in satisfactory condition today.

Committee to Study School Boundaries

Shiocton, Seymour Consider Problems Of Integrating

A committee from Shiocton, Seymour and Black Creek has been instructed to work out a proposal for boundary locations if Shiocton and Seymour Union High School districts should become integrated.

The Outagamie County School Committee met last night at the courthouse with school board members from the three communities and explained problems facing them:

The districts could gain more state aid if they formed systems operating grades one to 12 rather than having high school districts, which cover the territory of many independent elementary school districts.

Ike May Fish In Wisconsin This Summer

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower and his brothers may hold a reunion in northern Wisconsin this summer and enjoy a little muskie fishing.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Grode, charge that they interfered with the custody of a child by taking W. Rogers Ave., were arrested by Long Beach police.

Charles S. Blake, route 1, Campbellsport, charged that his former wife and her husband took the boy to California Jan. 8 after he brought the boy here for a two-hour visit.

Cardinal Calls Some Proposals On Schools Unfair

NEW YORK (AP) — Francis Cardinal Spellman says some of the educational recommendations made to President-elect John F. Kennedy by a task force are unfair to parochial and private school pupils.

The task force report, he said, proposed a $9.3 billion program of federal aid to education, with $5.8 billion allotted to public elementary and high schools.

The Cardinal said: "No Catholic schools or schools of other religious denominations are included in the task force proposal. For many millions of American parents, this means that they will be taxed more than ever before for the education of their children but that they cannot expect any return from their taxes, unless they are willing to transfer their children to a public grade or high school."

"I believe and I state that these recommendations are unfair to most parents of the nation's 6.8 million parochial and private school children. Such legislation would discriminate against a multitude of America's children because their parents choose to exercise their constitutional right to educate them in accordance with their religious beliefs."

Man Pleads Innocent To Non-Support Charge

Julius N. Cumber, 29, 1438 Pauline St., pleaded innocent Tuesday before Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmieg to a charge of non-support. He is being held under $1,000 bond in Outagamie County jail, and trial has been set for Feb. 7.

Cumber and a 19-year-old Appleton girl were arrested Monday evening by Sheriff Lt. Jack Frenzl in a car on E. Wisconsin Ave. The girl objected to Cumber's arrest and was charged with disorderly conduct. Frenzl said a court order has instructed she be returned to Mendota State Hospital.

County Road Men to Convene

Plan Discussions of Legislative Study, Access Limitations

County highway commissioners and committee members from throughout Wisconsin will meet in Milwaukee Tuesday to Thursday for their 48th annual mid-winter highway conference.

The program includes an explanatory report on the road classification study completed this week by the legislature's highway advisory committee, which reported that less than half of the state's county highway mileage is in tolerable condition.

Sen. Jess Hiller, Richland Center, and Assemblyman Robert T. Hubert, Wets Allis, will lead discussion. Gov. Gaylord Nelson and highway experts from in and out of the state also will speak.

Outagamie County Highway Commissioner Clarence J. Brownson is a member of the commissioners' resolutions committee and will participate in a panel discussion on the question "Should counties be given authority to limit access to certain county trunks?"

Others from the Fox Cities area attending include Edward Peotter, Seymour; L. A. Grunwaldt, Black Creek; M. J. ## Confusion Caused Gunfire in Cuba

HAVANA (AP) — Morning papers today blamed confusion by ground gunners rather than an intruding airplane for heavy gunfire that alarmed many Havana residents last night.

An official announcement had reported earlier that an unidentified plane was fired on by guards at Havana University, Principe Prison and Prime Minister Fidel Castro's headquarters at Plaza Civica.

But the press said the quarter-hour of gunfire was the result of "confusion." They did not say what caused it.

The gunfire was the heaviest veteran foreign newsmen could recall in Havana in the two years Castro has been in power.

Armed guards diverted all civilian traffic from the area of the prison, where about 5,000 persons — half of them political prisoners — have been held. In recent weeks there have been reports some have been transferred.

The firing brought a half-hour blackout at the Hotel Nacional, on the parts of Washington between Division and Morrison streets which didn't get ornamental lights in 1959.

Street Light Bills Won't be Mailed Until Streets are Repaired

Assessment bills for ornamental street lights installed in Appleton in 1960 haven't been sent because streets that were cut up when the work was done haven't been refinished, city officials explained today.

Everything except the street repair, which must wait until spring, has been done. The engineering department wants entire completion of the work before asking the City Council to accept the bills.

The lights are on N. Appleton and Oneida streets between Washington Street and the Chicago and North Western tracks and between Division and Morrison streets which didn't get ornamental lights in 1959.

Appleton Man Denies Drunken Driving

New Charge to be $2.50 Per Foot At Little Chute

LITTLE CHUTE — A 50 cents per foot of frontage rate increase for sewer and water extensions was approved by the Village Board Tuesday night.

The increase makes the new charge $2.50 per foot. The Finance Committee pointed out that this is only the second rate hike since 1934 in the village. At that time the charge was $1.50 and it went to $2 later.

Some discussion came up concerning the width of streets in new plats but it was decided that the matter would be discussed at a committee of the whole meeting before any action would be taken.

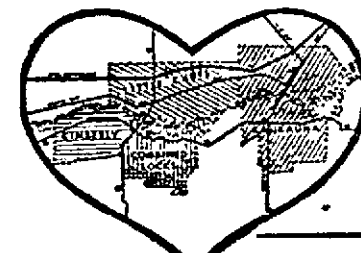

In other action the board approved the payment of $11,984.24 to the water department for hydrant rental for the year.

A check for $675 was received from Justice of the Peace Anton Jansen representing fines collected between Oct. 14 and Jan. 16.

Approval was given for the hiring of Mrs. Ervin Van Dyke as deputy clerk to assist the clerk-treasurer during tax collection time.

Mayor Reports City Is Financially Sound

Bayorgeon Tells Council of Progress In 1960, Problems Expected In 1961

KAUKAUNA — Mayor Joseph Bayorgeon informed the council the city finished the year with a balance on hand of $97,044, looked back on some of the achievements of 1960 and explained major problems facing the council during 1961 and into future years.

The mayor indicated the bonded debt at the end of 1961, barring floating new bond issues, would be $1,233,000, leaving a balance of $2,779,950 for future years.

He advised aldermen to continue their practices of economy when considering major improvements through bond issues, thus insuring the continued orderly rate of growth of the community, a sound tax rate which would not be retarding the development of the city. A tax rate must help make a city progressive, indicated Bayorgeon.

Look To Future

Major items facing the council in 1961 and future years, continued the mayor, include adequate schools, a joint municipal and utility garage to house the many items and equipment added as a community grows, proper and protective ordinances regulating annexations and setting forth zoning maps to meet existing and future conditions, revision of building codes and a study of building costs and fees.

The mayor also suggested bringing municipal ordinances up to date with additions and clarifications as needed. One of the major problems facing the city, one which may take more than a year to solve, said Bayorgeon, is the matter of redistricting wards to comply with the 1,000 ward resident requirement for third class cities.

Reviewed 1960

In reviewing 1960, Bayorgeon indicated, the board of public works spent $103,250 including $38,000 for 5,020 feet of storm sewer; $18,150 for 2,200 feet of sanitary sewer; $12,000 for 30,000 square feet of sidewalk; $5,100 for 3,100 feet of curb and gutter; $4,000 for asphalt road resurfacing; $9,000 for a park shelter and $17,000 for new equipment. An engineering firm was also hired to draw plans for improvements and additions to the sewage plant, stated Bayorgeon.

He spoke briefly on progress of the utility during the past year including $24,573 spent on 4,469 feet of water main, installation of nine hydrants costing $3,302 and installation of an iron removal plant at well No. 8, cost about $27,283.

Plans for 1961 call for 6,000 feet of water main to cost about $33,000; 12 hydrants to cost $4,400; iron removal plants at all remaining wells to cost $85,215. No rate changes are being contemplated by the utility, concluded the mayor.

Despite a fast closing rally, the winners were able to stall out the 1-point decision. The game was won from the free throw stripe as the losers outscored St. Mary 11 to 9 on field goals. Dan Bisch led the winners with 12 points while Jim Vanden Boogard was high for the losers with eight.

Selassie Survives Attacks To Keep Ethiopian Power

Pressure for Modernization May Make Him Last of Solomonic Line

BY WILTON WYNN
ADDIS ABABA. (AP) — Weeping Ethiopians fell on their faces and kissed the ground as the imperial automobile drove past. Then they went to their circular churches on the hillsides and sang hymns of rejoicing and thanking to their emperor — and, incidentally, to God. The little people of Addis Ababa had passed through a three-day nightmare. More than 2,000 had fallen victims to the bitter fighting that followed when a clique of the imperial bodyguard launched a revolution.

The simple people were bewildered and frightened. Disaster had befallen them while the emperor was away. But on the fourth day, the emperor returned, and the people's confidence returned.

Fittingly a pet lion accompanies Haile Selassie, the king of kings, as he walks in his palace garden. But an impatient Africa is throbbing and has little time for lions or kings, even if their line of power stretches back 3,000 years.

with him. Over and over again, servants and messengers, drivers and garbage collectors, were heard to say:

"Now we are safe. The emperor has come back to protect us."

Violence Continues

The violence didn't end completely when the emperor returned. The nights still were punctuated by rifle and machine-gun fire. The thud of mortars in the hills told of battles being fought there. Two days after the emperor's return, the body of a slain rebel leader hung for 12 hours in busy Menelik Square.

But for most people in Addis Ababa, the rebellion ended with the return of Haile Selassie the first, "elect of God, conquering lion of the tribe of Judah, king of kings and emperor of Ethiopia."

The monarch who attains such supernatural stature in the eyes of his people is a little man physically. He is barely 5½ feet in height and is slightly built. His jet-black beard has a few grey hairs as he goes into his 70th year.

He Is Strong

But diminutive Selassie is a strong man, physically and morally. He has to be to hold power in this savage country for 43 years. The emperor first became the power behind the throne through a palace coup in 1917. He came out on top in a series of bitter civil wars and was crowned emperor in 1930. He survived the onslaught of the Mussolini's armies and a series of

Kept in Chains

Lij Yasu, the emperor from whom Selassie seized power, was kept in chains for 19 years until he died. Until lately, public hanging of criminals was the rule. Because of foreign reproaches, the practice was abandoned in the capital until the December rebellion last year, when it was briefly revived.

Those who knew Selassie well insist he is humanitarian at heart in spite of his occasional cruel methods. Perhaps this conscience came from the Jesuit priests who educated him in his native province of Harrar. The emperor yearns to bring 20th century civilization to the remote mountain empire.

Whether the emperor goes about modernizing his country in the right way is debatable. Some observers think that he keeps the machinery of state too tightly in his own grasp, but there is no doubt that every ounce of energy in his wiry frame goes into the task.

Rises Early

At 8 every morning the hundred servants in the imperial palace must be at work, because by that time the emperor is awake and having his morning glass of fruit juice. After prayers in the palace chapel, he goes out to perform some ceremonial duty, inspecting a new factory, laying a cornerstone or reviewing troops. He returns to palace at 8 a.m. for a breakfast which is his heaviest meal of the day.

Then begin hours of intense and varied duties. The emperor negotiates state treaties and hires palace servants or orders firewood for his country villa in the same morning. A news agency trying to sell its service to the government radio station is told the matter must be referred to the emperor. The king of kings personally selects mules to be bought for the army.

Progress in Ethiopia tends to ebb and flow with the moods of the emperor. Much of the building in the capital has been done for ceremonial occasions rather than as part of a coordinated plan.

Projects Unfinished

A boulevard will be opened to coincide with completion of a new African house where international conferences will be held. The road to the Japanese embassy was repaired when the Japanese crown prince visited Addis Ababa.

Eleven years ago, the emperor became interested in building a university. He laid the cornerstone for the school and construction began. The gate was finished, but nothing else.

While they occupied the country, the Italians began building a municipal stadium. Two years ago, the emperor ordered work on the stadium resumed. A construction crane was set up on the site, and has remained idle there ever since.

Roads Neglected

With Point Four aid, the emperor launched an ambitious road-building program a decade ago. But lately he has had to borrow money from the world bank to repair roads built by the Italians but since neglected.

The emperor has taken an active personal interest in education. But after he has governed the country for 43 years, there still is only one Ethiopian with a medical degree in all the country. There is scarcely a native engineer, architect, or agricultural expert in Ethiopia.

The population is almost 35 per cent illiterate.

But the emperor insists his program is the best possible for the country. After the recent rebellion, he called newsmen into his palace and told them he was determined to proceed as before.

Court Is Formal

"The rebels claimed to be promising reform," the emperor said sternly, "but I only ask you to look at their published declarations and program. They are only copies of what we already are doing for the development of the country."

Perhaps because of his sensitivity to any appearance of backwardness in his country, Selassie has worked hard to inject formality into his court. You'll notice more pomp and ceremony in his palace than perhaps in any court of Europe.

If you wish to interview Selassie, you must wear a morning coat and striped trousers. You are led down a long corridor to a salon where the emperor waits on a gilded couch. At the threshold of this salon, you pause and bow. Halfway from the threshold to the emperor's couch, you stop and bow again. When you reach him, you bow as you shake hands.

When the interview is finished, you have to go through it all over again, backwards.

Likes to Play

This does not mean that the emperor never relaxes. He likes playing with his grandchildren and often spends his evenings in the palace with his family. Sometimes they enjoy private showings of American or British films, but these times play simple games together.

Rarely present at the emperor's side these days is his wife of many years, the Empress Menen. The rotund, taciturn empress is ill and mostly stays in her own quarters. They have a host of children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren frequently visiting with them in the palace.

The emperor has few interests apart from governing his country. He sometimes retires to his library to read history or the classics, sometimes strolls with his pet lion in his garden, or drives through the city while his people bow low on either side. But most of his waking hours are devoted to affairs of state and government.

Able to Survive

The old conquering lion of Judah seems to have the formula for survival in his tough land. And so he has been able to prolong the reign of what Ethiopians consider the world's oldest dynasty, tracing its origins to the union of King Solomon and the queen of Sheba.

There is a strong possibility that Selassie will become the first Ethiopian ruler to be succeeded by his own son. But what then? His heir, 44-year-old Crown Prince Asfa Wassen, has proved weak in crisis. Will he be tough enough to hold the country together?

With Africa awakening all around Ethiopia, the old jungle law of survival may no longer work. The December rebellion foreshadowed growing pressure for a thorough modernization of the country from the ruler on down.

If this happens, historians may look back to the reign of Haile Selassie as the twilight period of Ethiopia's Solomonic line of kings.

Is The Catholic Church Out of Place in America?

Some critics say "yes" and give as their reasons that the Church is not 100 per cent American and not democratic.

They say it is undemocratic, for example, for the Church to oppose birth control and divorce with remarriage. It is undemocratic for Catholics to maintain their own schools... to campaign against obscene literature, books and films... to promulgate a distinctive Catholic culture.

What we ask, could be more undemocratic than to deny Catholics the right to do these very things if they choose?

Christ's Church was not intended, of course, to be American, or British, French or German. It was to be catholic, not national—at home everywhere, alien nowhere. Nor was Christ's Church designed to be democratic. It was established on a hierarchical system, with authority vested in the Apostles—not in the Congregation. That is the nature and design of the Catholic Church.

To assert that the Catholic Church is undemocratic implies that it is anti-democratic and antagonistic to America's "democratic" system. Nothing could be further from the truth. No firmer dedication to democratic principles could be made than that voiced by the Catholic Bishops of the United States at their Third Plenary Council, in Baltimore, in 1884. The late Pope, Pius XII, supplementing similar comments by earlier Popes, declared in 1944 that the member of a true democracy is "a citizen of honors, of personal activity and of dignity."

In 1576—just 200 years before the Declaration of Independence—Robert Cardinal Bellarmine, a famed member of the Catholic Hierarchy—wrote that "all men are equal"... "that political right is from God"... "that man must be governed by someone"... that government "must depend on the consent of the multitude"... and that "for legitimate reasons the people can change the government..."

If America is to have a genuine democracy, it must be recognized as the right of the Catholic Hierarchy to expound the Catholic doctrine, to instruct the Catholic people, to legislate and regulate in matters concerning the Catholic Church. To do so infringes in no way on the rights or liberties of non-Catholics.

If you would like to have a better understanding of the Catholic Church and its attitudes and activities, write today for our free pamphlet. It will be sent in a plain wrapper... nobody will call on you. Fill in coupon—mail today! Ask for Pamphlet No. AP-49.

Winter's a Bit Like That Of 1943-44

Today's light snowfall in the Fox Cities compares with a winter experienced in 1943 and '44. In that period there was no snow on the ground in December and no white Christmas. On Jan. 6 an inch of snow fell, but didn't last long. That snow fall of 1944 might compare with today's. There was no more snow all the rest of January, 1944.

The first week of February three or four inches fell. In March winter really hit, with a total of 17.7 inches of snow for the month. There has been no measurable snowfall so far this season. The five-day forecast calls for continued cold and light snow or snow flurries likely again Saturday or Sunday.

Former Resident Writes Articles On Integration

Articles on racial tension written by Robert C. Reinders, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerhard Reinders, 823 W. Oklahoma St., assistant professor of history at Tulane University, New Orleans, have been published in The Empire Star, a Buffalo, N. Y., Negro newspaper.

Writing of the school integration situation in New Orleans, Reinders questioned the placement of five Negro children in the particular schools in an area of the city which has a tradition of violence. However, he said integration—at least token integration—has come to the city.

Reinders also wrote of the history of student sit-in strikes in New Orleans. Reinders got his bachelor's and master's degrees from Notre Dame and his doctorate from the University of Texas. He has taught at St. Edward's University, Austin, Texas, a branch of Notre Dame; Xavier University, a Negro university in New Orleans, for one year, and at Tulane for three years.

Snow flurries are expected tonight west of Lake Michigan, in the eastern lakes region and in the northern Appalachians. It will be colder in the northern half of the country from the plains east to the Atlantic.

K-C Researcher Describes Creative Thinking Program

Despite success in "group creative thinking," the synthesis of creative thinking is an individual effort, which he took part. A group including such professionals as chemist, architect, chemical engineer, economist, physicist, salesman and lawyer, met with designers, art historian and musicians as their consultants. William Gordon, an inventor interested in the creative thinking process, helped direct the program.

2 Convicted of Topsy Driving Oshkosh Man Fined $125; Another Forfeits Bond

Two men have been found guilty of drunken driving. One was fined and the other forfeited bond. Donald H. Cavanaugh, 42, 919 Mt. Vernon St., Oshkosh, through his attorney withdrew a previous plea of guilty to a charge of drunken driving and pleaded nolo contendere. He was adjudged guilty by Arnold J. Cane and fined $125 in Oshkosh Municipal Court this morning.

A second charge of hit and run driving, to which Cavanaugh pleaded innocent, was dismissed. Cavanaugh was arrested Jan. 1 after his car struck a parked vehicle at Sixth Avenue and Ohio Street in Oshkosh. He declined breathalyzer tests.

Adrian J. Van Bakel, 35, 600 W. Pierce Ave., Little Chute, forfeited $118.95 bond and lost his driving privileges for one year when he failed to appear in Municipal Court Tuesday afternoon on a drunken driving charge.

Van Bakel was arrested May 19, 1959, on W. College Avenue after an Appleton policeman saw him ignore a stop light at College and State.

He refused to take a drunkometer test. Van Bakel pleaded innocent when arraigned.

Newspapers Called Key to Retail Future

Head of Macy's Says Partnership Vital to Growth

Future growth and prosperity of American retailing is largely dependent on growth and prosperity of the country's newspapers, a leading retail spokesman said in Chicago.

Wheelock H. Bingham, president of R. H. Macy and Co., said that in the coming decade retail and newspaper industries will share the prospect of expanding business and the problem of keeping down distribution costs.

At an opening day session of the Newspaper Advertising Executives association's annual convention in the Edgewater Beach hotel, he said that newspapers are a "vital element in the great American distribution system."

Bingham called for formation of a close partnership between retailers and newspaper advertising managers with a goal of increased effectiveness for retailing.

The executive urged that newspapers aid stores in attracting capable young persons into the retail field, developing public awareness of store personality, and printing merchandising news. He also asked for a greater acceptance of cooperative advertising.

Both retailers and newspapers "are doing far less than they should to help their communities become strong and vital growth areas," he said.

Bowling for Polio Drive To Start

Bowling for polio will be the theme next week for Outagamie County bowlers in league play, according to Richard Stack, Outagamie County campaign chairman.

The operation is under direction of Charles W. Smith Jr., special events chairman. Bowling for polio will be held from Jan. 21 through Jan. 29. It has endorsement of both city and county association heads.

For each pin knocked down in the ninth frame in his first game, the bowler will donate 2 cents to the March of Dimes campaign. Instructions on the project were sent to 100 bowling league secretaries in Outagamie County.

Assisting Smith are Keith Buxton, Appleton campaign chairman; Melvin Wegner, secretary of the Appleton Bowling Association; and Mrs. Leona Uetzmann, secretary of the Central Fox Valley Women's Bowling Association.

Alton to Speak At Lawrence

Dr. Ralph Taylor Alton, bishop of the Wisconsin Area of the Methodist Church and former pastor at the First Methodist Church in Appleton, will speak on "What Language Is Yours?" at the Lawrence College convocation at 11 a.m. Thursday in the Memorial Chapel.

Alton

Alton, who did his undergraduate work at Mt. Union College and Ohio Wesleyan in Ohio and his work in theology at Boston University, had pastorates in Massachusetts and Ohio before coming to his Appleton post in 1950.

He is a member of the Lawrence board of trustees and holds an honorary doctor of divinity degree from Ohio Wesleyan. He was elected a bishop in July and moved to Madison soon after.

History, Status Of Oral Surgery Told by Dentist

The history and status of oral surgery were outlined Tuesday evening by Dr. Leslie M. Fitzgerald, DDS, oral surgeon, Dubuque, Iowa.

Dr. Fitzgerald spoke at a joint meeting of dentists and doctors at the Appleton Elks Club. He told the group the majority of the men now practicing oral surgery are graduates of dental schools.

"A well organized department of dentistry, including oral surgery services, should be included in all general hospitals," Dr. Fitzgerald declared.

He said oral surgery is the first specialty in dentistry and includes diagnosis and surgical and adjunctive treatment of diseases, injuries and defects of jaws and the associated structure.

The history of oral surgery, Dr. Fitzgerald pointed out, dates back to 1835 when Simon P. Hüllihen, Wheeling, W. Va., dentist, introduced it in the Temple University School of Dentistry.

Refuses to Say if He Vetoes Appointment

WASHINGTON (AP)—Robert S. McNamara, secretary of defense designate, testified today it is not appropriate to say that he vetoed appointment of labor leader Joseph D. Keenan to be a top defense official.

McNamara told the senate armed services committee he would have to consult his notes and then consider further, before deciding whether to tell the senate why Keenan did not get the job of assistant secretary of defense for manpower.

It has been reported that Keenan, secretary of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and a member of the AFL-CIO Executive Council, had just about been chosen for the defense job at one point. McNamara has just stepped down as president of the Ford Motor Co.

320 Increase Expected In South Side Schools

Catholic School Influx, Normal Growth Of Area Account for Kurtz's Prediction

Public elementary schools on Appleton's south side will be faced with an enrollment increase of about 320 next year, Supt. Royce Kurtz says.

School officials figure that about 172 additional children will enter public elementary schools because of the Catholic schools' decision to allow only eighth graders from the new St. Bernadette parish to attend school at Sacred Heart, the mother parish.

Drive-in Owner Asks For Land Rezoning

David J. Black, owner of the Sno-Cap Drive-In, on the northeast corner of Mason and Summer Streets, is asking for rezoning of his property from local business to commercial and light manufacturing so that he can construct a permanent canopy-type shelter.

Black's attorney explained that setback requirements in a local business zone district building of the canopy property across Mason Street from the drive-in is in commercial and light manufacturing zone.

Kurtz and elementary principals are working on a plan for accommodating all the youngsters.

Some to Edison This year, there are about 1,210 in south side public elementary schools. All rooms in Richmond, McKinley and Foster, including one in McKinley basement, are being used, as well as seven in Madison Junior High. Three kindergarten rooms are vacant for a half day. Fewer rooms will be available for elementary classes in Madison next year because of increased junior high enrollment.

Opening of the new, larger Edison School will provide room for some children to be transported across the Fox River.

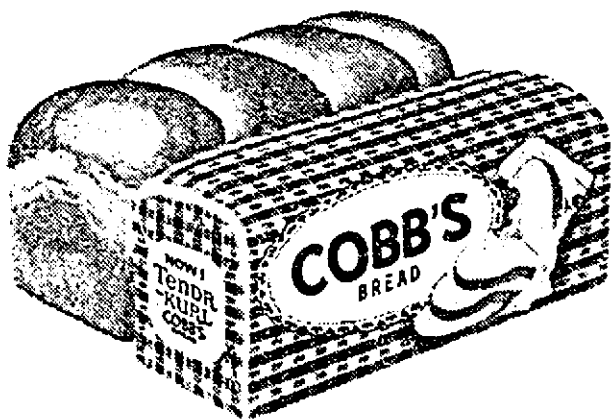

The Appleton Board of Education hopes to have eight classrooms, a crafts room and a library added to Foster by fall of 1962. An 18-room school in the southeast, to relieve Richmond on rollment pressure, is planned for 1963. By this time St. Bernadette hopes to have a school built in that area.

"You know... that does
make sense..."

...if curling the dough kneads it better,
Cobb's Bread would be more tender."

You've got the idea! Yes, Cobb's tender-curls the dough, stretches the bread-cells. Makes it tender. Presses out air bubbles, too...so the bread stays fresher. Gives it a smoother, more even texture. And the extra baking time this new loaf gets gives it a better flavor. No, we haven't changed the fine Cobb's recipe. Everything's the same except the curl. That's the trick! This TENDR-KURL® method does good things for bread.

Unemployment Puts Pressure On Congress

Lawmakers Must Decide on Best
Course of Action

BY SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP) — The new report on the number out of work — and especially the prospect that the ranks will grow — will add to the pressure on congress to do something about the jobless problem.

The president-elect already has been advised by a number of task forces to take steps aimed at various and quite different goals but that also add up to much more federal spending.

And that, at least in theory, usually translates into making more jobs — at least for the time being.

A specific salvo offered for the jobless ailment is an increase in unemployment payments or their extension over longer periods.

Income Tax Cut
An intermediate cure proposed is a cut in income tax payments or a moratorium on withholding taxes. This is aimed at giving consumers more money to spend, thus increasing effective demand for goods and services and as a final result stimulating the hiring of workers.

More government spending would have a longer-term effect, since such projects take time to get under way.

What the president-elect will recommend to Congress, and what the law makers will do about it, remains to be seen.

More defense spending seems sure of being voted. The hassle will be on how to spend the additional funds.

Education Spending
Considerable controversy may greet any proposals by the White House for a large federal outlay for education, whether for teachers' pay or for school construction.

Increased foreign aid spending is favored by those worried by the Communist inroads in Africa, Asia and Latin America. Opponents have a new talking point just now — more foreign aid could boost the deficit in our international payments and lay the base for still more loss of our gold.

The final stake: confidence in the American dollar.

More spending for health and welfare projects, especially just now for medical care for the aging, is being vigorously pushed. Federal outlays to spur housing construction, a speedup in highway spending, more slum clearing projects, increased development of natural resources — all are pushed by various task forces, or by state and local governments, or by private groups dedicated to them.

Balanced Budget
Even while Congress is considering whatever such requests the new president may pass along, another problem may be rising.

Incoming Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon says he wants a balanced federal budget, or at the very least a deficit small enough to add but little to inflationary pressures that would undermine the dollar.

He could find himself in conflict with any Cabinet colleagues who want big spending programs for their departments.

Mister Tom Returns
To Job With Fringe
Benefit After Crisis

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP) — Mister Tom, the company cat who caused a labor-management crisis when he was fired last week, is back on the job today — with a sand box.

Officials of Pacific Mercury Electronics Corp. had blamed Tom's dismissal on a lack of hygienic habits. They agreed to discuss the matter with employees when a union threatened to seek state intervention.

At a two-hour meeting Monday, Tom's housekeeping problems were ironed out. A carpenter's union official said he would provide a house and sandbox, and Tom went back to his post at the main gate.

Bids to Rebuild S. Commercial Street in Neenah from Winneconne Avenue to a point south of Peckham Street will be opened in Madison Feb. 14. This is an artist's view of how the street will look when completed, looking south from a point north of Cecil street. The 1.2 mile project is expected to cost about $350,000. Work will start about May 1.

S. Commercial St. Bid Openings Set Feb. 14 by State

1.2 Mile Project to Cost $350,000;
Construction to Start About May 1

NEENAH — Bids for reconstruction of S. Commercial Street between Winneconne Avenue and a point 450 feet south of Peckham Street will be opened in Madison Feb. 14 by the state highway commission, Kenneth Nelson, area construction engineer for the commission, announced this morning.

The 1.2 mile project will cost an estimated $350,000 with the cost being shared by the federal, county and Neenah city governments. The federal share will be $194,000, Winnebago county's $64,000 and Neenah's $130,000. Both Neenah and the county have their share already allotted in the budget.

If the bids are acceptable to Neenah and federal authorities, construction work will start about May 1. Target date for completion is Oct. 1. The contracts are set up for 150 calendar days.

The project includes complete reconstruction of S. Commercial Street between the sidewalks and some reconstruction of sidewalks.

When re-opened, S. Commercial will have a roadbed 48 feet wide. The street presently is 31 feet wide. There will be two 12-foot through traffic lanes, two 10-foot parking lanes and a two-foot gutter flag between the parking lanes and the curb.

The street surface will be nine-inch Portland cement concrete on a six-inch gravel or crushed stone base.

During construction S. Commercial will be closed to through traffic. However, the contractor will make provisions for cross traffic at Winneconne Avenue and Cecil and Peckham Streets.

The contractor also must make provisions for entry to the Gallopway Milk Co. and the Sentry Food Market on S. Commercial. Other industries and commercial firms have alternate means of access.

Detour routes will be decided on at a later date by the city and county.

Widening of the street will be accomplished by removing trees along the right-of-way and reducing the width of the terraces to 3½ feet.

Mayor Chester S. Bell said the city would attempt to plant new trees in the terraces. He is chairman of a special committee to study this problem.

New Gas Main

Several other projects also will be done in conjunction with the street work. Sewer laterals and drainage structures will be installed.

Police Check Schools After Scare Call

NEENAH — City and rural schools of Winnebago County were checked by police Tuesday night after a call was received warning a bomb had been placed in an unidentified school. After investigation of the schools, police ascribed the call to a prankster with a weird sense of humor.

It was pointed out police have many things to do and that time used in making checks on false rumors must be taken from other duties. Pranksters caught giving false information will be dealt with severely. In previous scares that all other city departments are under the same rule.

Mayor John Klein pointed out that all other city departments are under the same rule.

OK New Look At Beer Ban In Groceries

Special Business
At Feb. 7 Session
Of Menasha Council

MENASHA — By a 5-4 vote, the city council Tuesday approved a motion to reconsider its long-standing ordinance banning beer sales in grocery stores.

Reconsideration will be a special order of business at the Feb. 7 council meeting.

Ald. John Gollner, who moved for reconsideration, said that grocery stores in Menasha are forced to send business to Appleton and Neenah because they cannot sell beer.

"It's a concern of all cities to encourage new businesses. But how about cities like Menasha encouraging the businesses they already have?"

He noted that Neenah has nine stores in which beer is sold and Appleton 25.

Ald. Fred Block said three grocers in his Second Ward were for selling beer and one mildly against it. Tavernkeepers and beer depots are against it, he added.

Gollner replied that Menasha is one of three cities in Wisconsin to have such prohibitions.

Voting against reconsideration were Alds. Paul Laemmrich, Fred Rohloff, William Zeininger and Ray Zielinski. In favor of the motion were Gollner, Block, Louis Gammy, Robert Sullivan and Edward Stinski. Ald. Robert Mielke was absent.

Guns, Dollars Insufficient in Foreign Policy, Speaker Says

NEENAH — Guns and dollars have trade agreements and economic assistance, alone, will not give aid, he continued. "When lasting solutions to the problems you aid, you endorse," he warned.

Commenting on another tired complaint, "after all the money we have spent, we have no Greece, Belgium and Luxembourg friends," Nuveen compared the said Tuesday. "Our problem to 100 per cent foreign aid economic day, basically, is what do we do assistance in the Marshall Plan with the undeveloped nations."

John Nuveen, director of the omic aid now with the remainder Chicago investment banking firm of the dollars going for military of John Nuveen and Co., guest speaker for Woman's Tuesday Club, discussed the implications of foreign aid being considered as, however, message in his "people an endorsement of a regime, its to people program" of saying ineffectiveness when countries every dollar spent for defense is have no underlying foundation of negative in that defense merely social and political institutions buys time, it holds the line until, and the negative nature of aid the forces of peace can take over, when it is in the form of military, the speaker said, "We have only been spending one-tenth on foreign aid, the rest on defense, only one-tenth for a positive force."

"The area of concern is expanding in this country and I find this hopeful." An overwhelming majority of the people didn't know anything was happening in foreign policy until Castro came along. Today more people are conscious that we have not done well in the past and things are not going as they should, he added.

"What can I do as an individual?" If we stand for a way of life, for principles such as all men are created equal, then we have to make these things work. To the extent that we fail to give the good life for all men, we are spoiling our chances of having others follow us," he said.

"As individuals, we have a responsibility of understanding and interpreting the things we stand for." There must be a development.

Calling the Marshall Plan "more successful than even the most optimistic enthusiasts of the program had hoped for," he said, "its general effect was to stop communism and push communism out of western Europe through economic means."

The Marshall Plan, however, not discounting its remarkable success in restoring Western Europe, has very little application to the problems we face in the rest of the world, Nuveen commented.

Europe was a very highly developed economy and culture. "When you have nothing to revive or restore, you have to create. We have not been addressing ourselves to this problem."

Social Revolution

The overwhelming problem now and for the foreseeable future is the social revolution. Foundations of social and political institutions, a national spiritual sense, form the base for a thriving economy.

"Pilgrims, Pirates and Parasites," the title of an article he wrote, was used by Nuveen to describe the basic difference between North and South America and to illustrate his point of a country's foundations.

The pilgrims gave a spiritual foundation to our country, the Declaration of Independence defined the national destiny. Latin America developed through soldiers of fortune, sent by kings of Spain and Portugal to loot gold and silver, he said. When they broke with the kings, these pirates lived on the labors of others, becoming parasitic leaders.

Comparing the history of Cuba and Puerto Rico, both being freed from Spain in 1898, Nuveen pointed out in Cuba there has been no attempt to deal with the basic foundations of society, whereas in Puerto Rico, we gave the island "honest government" and it is literally pulling itself up by its bootstraps.

Endorsement

In Cuba, when it gained its independence, there was no one to take authority. When a vacuum exists, men like Hitler, Peron, Castro arise. Partial responsibility for our current trouble with Cuba must be assumed by ourselves, he said. We showed friendship to Batista, our aid being considered an endorsement of his regime. "When Batista was thrown out, we were thrown out with him."

"Castro was produced by a situation. The most serious thing about Cuba is it is not too different from the rest of our Latin neighbors." We can see if investment was the key to our help to another country, then Cuba and Venezuela should be the most secure countries in Latin America. Instead, they are the weak links, he pointed out.

Interference

"How do we bring about change in social and political institutions?" To those who say we can't interfere in the internal affairs of another country, Nuveen answers, "This is merely a cliché, a platitude."

"Whenever we give economic aid, this is intentional interference." There is no way for a powerful nation to avoid interference in internal affairs when we NEENAH — The State Senate passed today and sent to the Assembly a bill that would extend police powers for local authorities to ice-bound inland lakes.

The measure was authored by Sens. Chester Depsey, R-Hartland and Reuben La Fave, R-Oconto. It would give local authorities the same jurisdiction to police lakes in the winter that they now possess under Wisconsin's boating code.

The authors said that an upswing in winter mishaps and drownings led to introduction of the legislation.

Companion measures introduced both in the Senate and Assembly would create a Department of Educational Research in the Department of Public Instruction.

The measure would require an appropriation of $30,000 initially, and $35,000 a year thereafter.

Sen. Carl Lauri, D-Superior, said the division would be asked to "stimulate a program to educational research on the elementary and secondary school level."

A bill introduced in the Assembly by Frank Nikolay, D-Abbotsford, would invest administrative and executive powers in the chairman of the State Highway Commission, but retain the commission's other two members.

Gov. Gaylord Nelson in his legislative address today proposed abolishment of the three-member commission. The governor would replace it with a single executive operating with a part time advisory board.

Propose Tenure for Menasha Clerk's Post

Council Passes Ordinance Requiring All
Building Removals to Have Prior Okay

MENASHA — Placing the city clerk's post on a permanent tenure basis, instead of elective, is the basis of a proposed ordinance referred Tuesday to the ordinance and resolutions committee by the city council.

Ald. Paul Laemmrich moved that the finance committee's recommendation to that effect be given to the city attorney and committee.

The council passed an ordinance requiring council permission prior to moving any house or other building into or within the city limits. The building inspector's permission along would be required to move any such building out of the city.

City Atty. Richard J. Steffens explained the ordinance was required because the state statutes assign such a regulatory power to a city board of public works. To remove such power from the board, an enabling ordinance was prepared.

Two months ago, the council passed a motion requiring council permission. Steffens found an ordinance was needed to carry out the council's intention of restricting the type of building which can enter or be moved inside the city.

Ask Recodification Bids
The council asked bids for Feb. 21 on recodification of the city ordinance book. Many ordinances are out of date and others are traced with much difficulty. Steffens earlier explained to the council. He said such a job would be so great that neither he nor any other local attorney could take it on and continue with private practice.

Aids. Gammey and Edward Stinski objected to the Mayor John Klein's announcement he planned to have a 3-man lay committee help in altering city ward lines.

Klein said the group would function soon. Two former aldermen—Gordon Schanke and Salvatore Porto — would serve on it with a third person, unnamed by Tuesday.

The mayor today announced Mrs. John Teeple had accepted appointment to the committee. She has been active in the League of Women Voters and was chairman of the league committee which recently published a second edition of the "Know Your Town" booklet, now entitled "The Cities and Towns of Neenah and Menasha."

Gammey said "the aldermen were elected to their positions. They are capable of doing the work. I don't go along with a citizens' committee on it."

Stinski questioned whether the 1959 council resolution on redistricting the wards and increasing the number from five to six had simply died.

Klein told him it had not, but that the matter must be thoroughly studied.

The council also:

Mr. and Mrs. Ladutko

Seek Husband In Death of Wife, Man

CLEVELAND — Police today sought a husky, brown-haired attorney for questioning in the shooting deaths of his wife and a man who was a member of a prominent Cleveland law firm. Love letters found at the scene linked the two victims, detectives reported.

The body of Mrs. Nancy Shepherd Ladutko, 29, was found last night in an apartment in the University Circle area on Cleveland's East side. A 16-gauge shotgun lay across her body.

A trail of blood led from the apartment to a car outside, where the body of Charles D. Johnson, 42, was found slumped over the wheel. Johnson, a partner in the firm of Baker, Hostetter and Patterson, apparently lost consciousness as he tried to drive away in his red, 1960 station wagon.

Mrs. Ladutko, who was a granddaughter of the late William L. Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, had passed her bar examination and was a librarian with Johnson's firm.

Mrs. Ladutko left her husband two weeks ago and had filed for divorce.

She an dher husband, John Max Ladutko Jr., 32, had lived for four years in the Bohemian-style apartment in what once was the garage of a big estate. Relatives said she had gone to the apartment to get some belongings and was to meet her attorney there.

$30,000 More For Roof Repair At Hospital

Supervisors Aren't
Certain $60,000
Will be Sufficient

OSHKOSH — Another $30,000 was added to the same amount appropriated last November by the Winnebago County Board of Supervisors Tuesday morning for repair and replacement of the county hospital's roof.

The supervisors hope the $60,000 will be sufficient, but they aren't sure.

Motion by Supv. Gordon Hanson, Town of Winchester, to call the architect before the board Tuesday afternoon was amended to provide for his appearance at the March 4 meeting.

Supv. E. G. Steinhilber, Oshkosh, suggested the postponement because the district attorney's office is investigating the entire roofing matter.

Supv. Virginia Nolan, Oshkosh, institutions committee chairman, said, "We ran into a bad situation. All of the insulation is matted down and saturated. We feel it should be completely done now, rather than only a part of it. The men's section is very bad and the women's section is a little better than that."

The first $30,000 appropriated was to replace the present roof in the central part, where leaks had developed. The roofing company in beginning this week found the damage was much more extensive than originally thought. Vents installed several years ago to dry out the moistened insulation, affected only small areas around each vent.

A new roof is being installed at the central section of the hospital, where the damage was greatest. The hospital was opened in early 1953. Construction began in 1950.

Shiocton Five Hands FVL 72-36 Defeat

Winterfeldt and Johnson Pace Non-League Win

Shiocton, Little Nine Conference leader, handed Fox Valley Lutheran a 72-36 non-league defeat at Shiocton Tuesday night.

The Chiefs are ranked "special mention" in the WIAA "Little Sixteen" list and showed they'd like to get a promotion. The Chiefs' record is now, 9-1, the only loss coming at the hands of Hortonville.

The defeat leaves the Foxes with a 6-4 record. FVL entertains Howards Grove Friday.

The first period was fairly close as FVL had control of the backboards.

Three Quick Baskets

However, in the second period, Shiocton went into a 1-3-1 offense and clicked off some easy layups.

John Johnson, last season's FVL nemesis, picked up three quick baskets in this fashion and Henry Winterfeldt two, plus a pair of free throws.

Besides this defensive lapse, FVL shooters turned cold and managed only five points in the second per quarter.

The fourth quarter was the biggest one for the Chiefs, as they outscored FVL, 23-12.

Winterfeldt took scoring honors, with 19 points, and Johnson added 18.

The bright spot for the Foxes was the fourth-quarter play of Stuart Boese, reserve forward. Boese scored 10 points in the final eight minutes.

Dischinger's Finger Cut

Injury Could Hamper Purdue Ace Against Iowa

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Purdue's hopes of knocking Iowa out of the Big Ten basketball lead suffered a blow Tuesday when the Boilermakers' top scorer, Terry Dischinger, cut a finger while working in a chemistry lab.

Dischinger was cleaning up at the end of a lab session when he cut the middle finger of his right hand on a piece of glass equipment that broke in his hand. It took five stitches to close the wound.

The 6-7 Olympian appeared in the afternoon's drill, but his work-out was limited to running and defensive maneuvers.

Coach Ray Eddy said the cut may handicap Dischinger in Saturday night's game here with Iowa, but there was some hope most of the stitches could be removed by Friday.

Dischinger, a junior majoring in chemistry, is averaging 28.5 points in 11 contests this year.

Purdue has a 2-0 Big Ten record, while Iowa is 4-0 with a 10-game winning streak overall.

Hall said he broke the middle bone in his pitching hand but "I expect it to be healed in six weeks and to be at spring training when camp opens."

NEENAH — The Mid-Eastern Conference's initial crucial game of the campaign pits undefeated Kimberly against once-beaten Neenah Friday night in the spacious Neenah gym.

The eight conference quintets close the first half of their schedules Friday night and begin meeting opponents for the second time Saturday night in the second of three double rounds carded this year.

Other Friday night encounters are Menasha at Clintonville, Two Rivers at New London and Kaukauna at Shawano. The Saturday tussles are Kimberly at Shawano, New London at Neenah, Two Rivers at Clintonville and Menasha at Kaukauna.

Most of the favorites are expected to be wary of their foes after last week's goings-on which saw Shawano surprise Menasha and Kaukauna upset Clintonville.

NHS Posts 6-4

The Friday night ruckus affords Neenah a direct opportunity to move into a tie for the lead against the club now in office. The Rockets have a 6-4 over-all record but have won their last five league starts.

Kimberly owns a skein of eight straight wins. Of its six conference decisions, the closest an opponent has come was New London's 9-point reverse last weekend. Neenah lost to the Bulldogs by four in its first league game.

The fracas will match the conference's two leading scorers. Kimberly's Tom Rooyakkers has a 7-point edge over Paul Felton of the hosts.

The Papermakers have racked up 441 points to lead the loop in offense while Neenah ranks second with 400. On the defensive side, Kimberly is second with 316 points allowed and Neenah, fourth, with 347.

Losing Strings

New London attempts to stop its 3-game losing string at the expense of Two Rivers, which hasn't won since downing Kaukauna three games ago. The Bulldogs have slid from a first place tie to a deadlock for third, fourth and fifth in the last three games.

Menasha, surprise - loser to Shawano, hopes to move back above the 500 mark at Clintonville. A Trucker win would give it the same record as Menasha—3-4.

Last week's two upset winners are matched in the Indian Wigwam. Kaukauna, by limiting Clintonville to 42 points, again became the league's best defensive club. Shawano ranks third in defense with 335 points given up.

In the initial meetings of Saturday's foes, Kimberly bested Shawano, 73-52; New London nipped Neenah, 69-65; Menasha downed Kaukauna, 48-40; and Clintonville tipped Two Rivers, 54-53.

NBA's West All-Stars Rout East, 153-131

Take 47-19 Lead At Quarter; 'Big O' Voted Most Valuable

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Oscar Robertson neatly summed up in four little words today the West's record - breaking victory over the East in the National Basketball Association all-star game. "We beat 'em good," said Cincinnati's "Big O", voted the most valuable player in Tuesday night's dream game in the War Memorial Auditorium. The West, a 6-point underdog, won 153-131.

Robertson scored 23 points and had a record 14 assists. Bob Pettit and Clyde Lovellette, both of St. Louis, and Elgin Baylor of Los Angeles, also starred for the winners.

All four pitched in during a furious assault that carried the Westerners to a 47-19 lead at the first-quarter mark. The closest the East came after that was 14 points, 131-117, midway in the fourth quarter.

The usual high-scoring Wilt Chamberlain and Bob Cousy were held far below their average. Philadelphia's Chamberlain had only 12 points. Cousy, the veteran Boston guard, had only four.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Sam Jones, a veteran righthander who has been the biggest winner on the San Francisco pitching staff the past two years, Tuesday returned his signed contract. The Giants indicated Jones, who won 18 games last year, received the same salary as last season, approximately $25,000.

Pennings Tops Chuters On First-Half Spree

LITTLE CHUTE — Cold first-half shooting enabled Abbot Pennings High to build up an early lead and hand St. John High a 55-33 loss in DePere Tuesday night.

It was the 11th straight loss of the season for the Dutchmen and their sixth against Fox Valley Catholic Conference opposition. Pennings is now 10-1 for the season and 4-1 in the conference.

St. John sank only five of 23 shots in the first half and scored six points in each of the first two periods.

Comfortable Lead
Meanwhile, the Squires rolled in 20 points in the first quarter and 15 more in the second frame for a comfortable, 35-12 lead at the intermission.

The second half was a reversal of form for the Chuters as they posted a 21-20 scoring edge and hit eight of 20 field goal attempts for 40 per cent.

Ray Rotter, Squire center, walked off with the game scoring honors with 20 points. Six of his nine baskets came in the first half.

Free throw shooting was at a minimum as both teams were called for only nine personals and each bagged seven tries. The Dutchmen missed five and Pennings miscued on four.

Dan Hietpas and Roy Vandenberg each had eight points for the Chuters as the scoring was spread between seven players.

The next outing for the Dutchmen will be Friday night when they meet undefeated St. Mary, Menasha.

Notre Dame Drops De Paul '5' From Undefeated List

OSU Only Major All-Winning Team After 61-58 Demon Loss

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS | which held Florida State scoreless for 7 1/2 minutes while bouncing into an 11-0 lead. Memphis State, beaten only by West Virginia in the Sugar Bowl final, sped to its 29th consecutive home triumph with Skip Wolfe getting 19 points, Wayne Yates 18, and Lowery Kirk and Frank Snyder 17 apiece.

Notre Dame's Irish spilled DePaul's unbeaten string at 12 Tuesday night, 61-58.

John Tully was triggerman for the Irish, hitting two quick field goals as part of an 8-0 burst that shattered a 42-all tie with about 8 minutes remaining.

DePaul, ranked seventh in the new Associated Press poll, thus suffered the road-game pitfall that had struck Bradley, Louisville and Vanderbilt from the unbeaten ranks last week.

Ohio State's beat-'em Bucks won their last 17 games including 12 straight this year as they rumble toward defense of their NCAA championship.

Detroit Beats Dayton Cincinnati (12-3) stretched its winning streak to seven, 64-53, over Duquesne; Detroit won its 10th in 15 tries, 71-57 over Dayton; Auburn (8-2) whipped Florida State 74-67; Memphis State (12-1) routed Louisiana College 96-39; and Western Kentucky fanned its Ohio Valley Conference lead, 88-75 over Tennessee Tech in other major games.

Little Howie Carl hit 16 points for DePaul, but Notre Dame had little trouble with sophomore M. C. Thompson, who had scored 24 points when the Demons ended Louisville's 13-game streak last Saturday. Thompson scored only five points and hit just one field goal.

Sophomore Tom Thacker and Paul Hogue each scored 16 points for Cincinnati's Bearcats, who are improving with every game under new coach Ed Jucker. Another sophomore, Dale Heidottling, scored seven points in the closing minutes to put it away after he replaced Bob Wiesenbahn, who was put out for fighting with Duquesne's Clyde Arnold.

Dayton, now 9-3, held Detroit ace Dave Debusschere to eight points but the Titans' Charlie North filled in with 23 and Detroit won handily. Dayton, led by Gary Roggenbuck's 15 points, hit only 24 percent of its shots.

Jimmy Fibbe scored 17 points and Porter Gilbert 16 for Auburn, 14-1 in the FVCC.

3 Common Foes
The Cadets and Xavier have met three common opponents: St. Mary, St. John of Little Chute and Lourdes. Premontre lost to St. Mary, 50-44, in one of the Cadets' best performances. They Lourdes, 61-49.

Xavier walloped St. John, 83-54, and lost to St. Mary, 70-60. The Hawks split with Lourdes—rolling 73-51, on the Xavier court and losing at Oshkosh, 68-64, in an overtime tilt Sunday.

Premontre's top scorer is 5-9 guard Mike O'Brien, whose brother was spiritual director at Xavier last year. Other leading players are 6-4 Bill Wesley and 6-2 Dick Jansing.

Bobcats Play Muskegon Six

Meet Fort Frances In Green Bay Saturday, Sunday

GREEN BAY — The Green Bay Bobcats, having completed a series sweep against the Soo Indians over the weekend, today are pointing for one of their stiffest tests of the season against the Muskegon Zephyrs of the International Hockey League here Thursday night.

Muskegon, newest member of the IHL, is running third in the league's Eastern Division but has been playing at a swift .667 clip since Jan. 1. In that two-week span, the Zephyrs have won 6 and tied 1 while losing only 3.

Leader of the Zephyrs' revival has been Ken Hayden, veteran former American Hockey League center, who is the IHL's leading goalscorer. Hayden, who has registered three hat tricks to date, has amassed 37 goals in 43 games.

Paavola Plays

Another Zephyr stalwart is a former Milwaukee Falcon, Rod Paavola. Paavola, who hails from Hanock, Mich., is no stranger to the Bobcats. He has faced them as a member of Houghton's Portage Lake Pioneers and the United States Nationals and Olympic teams as well as of the Minneapolis Millers of the Central Hockey League.

Paavola, employed at defense for Muskegon, joined the Zephyrs in December after the Falcons folded. He is one of two former Upper Michigan stars on the Muskegon roster. The other is forward Jerry Frenette, presently sidelined with a shoulder injury.

Thursday night's game will be the first of three within four days for the Bobcats, who also entertain the Fort Frances Canadians of the Ontario-Minnesota League Saturday night and Sunday afternoon.

State's Ski Area Operators May Face Financial Crisis

BY JOHN TORINUS
Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — The lack of snow throughout Wisconsin and part of Upper Michigan this winter has passed the joking stage to many people who have come to depend on the skiing trade for their livelihood.

It is becoming a financial crisis not only for ski area operators but also for many other businesses in the northern area, motel and hotel owners, restaurants, filling stations, sporting goods stores.

About half of this skiing season is over. The long range forecast is for sub-normal precipitation the next 30 days.

There are quite a few large ski developments which haven't yet operated this year. These include Brule Mountain at Iron River, Fun Valley at Middle Lake, Potawatomi Park at Sturgeon Bay, and the new Nor-Ski Ridge at Fish Creek.

Pine Mountain at Iron Mountain opened last weekend after trucking in 500 loads of snow scrapped off a nearby lake.

The story is that Tony Wise at Mount Telemark at Cable was fortunate enough to purchase snow insurance this season from Lloyd's of London. Terms were that if he couldn't operate by mid-January the insurance would start to pay. Our understanding is that Tony has decided on this basis not to operate this year.

Sizeable snow storms in this area result from a warm moist flow of air from the Gulf of Mexico reaching up into the Mississippi Valley and meeting a cold front lying over northern Wisconsin and Upper Michigan. This year, such flows of moist air have been swinging further east and dumping snow on the northeastern part of the United States. They have been missing Wisconsin entirely.

Co-leading Wilson and Kimberly play home games against Fox Valley Freshman League rivals Thursday. Kimberly has the far easier assignment.

The yearling Papermakers welcome Madison, beaten soundly in all four of its games. Wilson plays host to Menasha — which has divided its two contests. The Jays thumped Madison, 61-34, last week while Wilson was idle.

If Wilson and Kimberly triumph Thursday, as they're favored to do, it will set up their clash the following Thursday as the league's "game of the year." All the other circuit clubs have lost two games or more: Wilson and Kimberly meet just once this season in the circuit's 10-game schedule.

Thursday's other contest pairs second division clubs Roosevelt and Kaukauna, at Kaukauna.

Madison Submits Bid For Gold Cup Races

Houston Franchise in Association Purchased For About $400,000

Group to Operate Class AAA Club For One Season

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The Houston Sports Association bought the American Association franchise here Tuesday night—clearing the biggest obstacle between Houston and major league baseball.

An official of HSA said a big factor in the purchase was an agreement between the Minneapolis-St. Paul entry in the American League and the American Association.

The official, who asked his name not be used, said the estimated $400,000 purchase was an agreement between the Minneapolis-St. Paul owner Calvin Griffith's payment to the league helped sway the Bufts into selling its franchise to the HSA.

The HSA holds a National League franchise for Houston in 1962.

The purchase price was not disclosed, but estimates put it near $400,000.

Final Offer

The HSA made what it called a final offer of $362,500 last Oct.

21 after almost two years of dickering. W. H. (Bill) Hopkins, president of the Bufts, turned it down and demanded $600,000. The team lost $180,000 in 1960 and $135,000 in 1959.

A week ago the agreement between Griffith and the minor league was announced.

The HSA bought the Bufts' American Association franchise and will operate the Class AAA team in 1961. The group also bought the two players the Bufts own, the physical equipment of the team and the equity in the American Association.

The HSA still must satisfy the American Association, but that isn't regarded as a major problem now because the HSA will have a vote on any indemnity as a league member.

The only other problem facing the HSA now is where the unnamed team will play.

Harris County has set a second bond election for Jan. 31 to seek approval from voters to build the stadium with $22 million tax-backed bonds.
